

ALLIED ARMIES SLOWLY HALTING PLUNGE OF HUNS

Notable Slackening In Advance of Enemy

(By Associated Press)
Slowly but surely the plunge of the German crown prince's armies is being halted by the French and British armies. While the momentum of the German masses has not yet spent itself, there has been a notable slackening in its advance during the past day. The chief efforts of the Germans now seem to be devoted to the widening of the gap they have torn in the positions of the allies between Pinon and Brimont. This work seems to be progressing slowly against the desperate resistance of the allied forces.

The French having fallen back from the limits of the city of Soissons, have stood their ground against the attacks of the enemy and the German official statement fails to show material advances there during the day's fighting. The French here are fighting on familiar ground which has been made historic by numerous battles some of which are named among the decisive combats of history. On the eastern end of the fighting line some of the forts before Rheims are said to have fallen which was to be expected from the fact that they have been outflanked by the tide of invasion that has swept far to the south of the city.

The fighting has taken on the familiar aspect of the first invasion of France in 1914, the advance of Von Mackensen along the Dunajec and the fighting at Picardy in March. After breaking the French and British defensive positions, but not breaking the allied line, the Germans are again moving their forces out in a fan-shaped figure fighting hardest on the flanks of the extreme front of their advance.

The situation while apparently extremely serious has not assumed the critical aspect of the fighting late in March. The German advance is being checked by the French and British forces, who are fighting on the flanks of the extreme front of their advance.

The wave of the advance is now approaching the valley of the Marne, the nearest approach to that avenue toward Paris being at the village of Vezilly, which lies at the extreme apex of the German wedge and is about seven miles from the river. In 1914 the Germans advanced from Braine, east of Soissons, to Vanuise, west of Verdun, having reached the Marne the Teutons turned their advance west and they may be expected to repeat their tactics.

The reserve forces at the command of General Foch are now coming into action on ground chosen for the combat by that master strategist and it is possible that a blow of tremendous proportions may be struck somewhere along the front of the German wave or on its western side which seems to be open to an attack which might crumple up the German armies to the east of Soissons.

The Americans who captured Cantigny have beaten off attack after attack by the Germans. Large German forces are said to have been gathered to retake the village and they have launched savage assaults at the German front. The latter with rifle and machine gun fire have mowed down the advancing Teutons and American artillery has smashed German formations with barrage fire.

Along American-held positions in the Toul and Luneville sectors there have been several spirited engagements but nowhere have the Germans penetrated American lines. Fighting in the air in those sectors has been remarkably intense with the Americans holding their own against the foe.

The allied positions in the Flanders sector have been subjected to bombardments but the only infantry fighting there has been initiated by the French near Dickebusch Lake south of Ypres which improved their positions as the result of an attack on the Germans. The fighting on the Italian front has not been of an unusual character.

TO RECRUIT 5,000 TRAINED NURSES

New York, May 30.—Special committees to recruit 5,000 trained nurses sorely needed in the army, are being organized in all cities within the jurisdiction of the Atlantic division of the American Red Cross. It was announced Monday that the campaign opens Monday and will be continued ten days. While the immediate need is five thousand nurses it is declared that ten thousand must be available before January 1st, 1919 from the Atlantic division alone.

SALES FOR NEW YORK

SPEAKER DROPS DEAD

Lodi, Cal., May 30.—Attorney Robert F. Burns of Auburn, Orator at the local Memorial Day exercises dropped dead today while making a stirring appeal for support of the war.

LONDON PUBLISHER OPENS HIS DEFENSE

Noel Pemberton-Billing Faces Charge of Libelling Maude Allen, Dancer, and Theater Manager—Testimony Reveals Black Mail of German Secret Service Agent.

London, May 30.—Noel Pemberton-Billing, member of parliament for East Hertfordshire and publisher of the newspaper Vigilant, opened his defense in his trial in the Bow street police court today on the charge of libelling Maude Allen, dancer, and J. T. Grein, manager of the Independent Theater.

Mrs. Villiers Stewart was called to testify as to a book which Pemberton-Billing said had been prepared by German secret agents containing names of 47,000 British persons alleged to be addicted to vice and held in bondage to Germany thru fear of exposure.

Mrs. Stewart, under examination by Mr. Pemberton-Billing, said the book contained names of ex-Premier Asquith and Viscount Haldane, former secretary for war, and Justice Darling who is trying the case against the member of parliament. Another witness, Captain Harold Spencer said he was shown the book by Prince William of Weid in Albania. He said he did not remember seeing Mr. Asquith's name in it but he declared the names of Mrs. Asquith and Viscount Haldane were.

Continuing his testimony Captain Spencer said he wrote the article which contained the alleged libel and which was based on a letter from Marie Corelli, the novelist. Last September he had heard of a camorra in financial circles whose object was to get Asquith back in power and make a German peace. As a precaution he informed American naval headquarters so that the plot might be frustrated.

The charges against Noel Pemberton-Billing member of parliament of libelling Maude Allen, an American dancer and J. T. Grein, manager of the Independent Theater which now is being tried in the Bow street police court arose out of publication in Mr. Pemberton-Billing's paper Vigilant of an attack on Miss Allen such as was unworthy of any man to make on a woman, according to the prosecution. The meaning of the passage complained of was that there was some connection between nameless vice and the performance at the Independent Theater.

This was made clearer by a cryptic reference suggesting that if Scotland Yard were to seize a list of members subscribing to the Independent Theater there was no "doubt they would secure the names of several thousand of the 47,000."

Explanation of this reference was discovered in an article in the previous issue of the paper in which the alleged libel was directed against whole classes of people not excepting the highest. The writer said many persons had been prevented from joining their full strength into the war by corruption, blackmail and fear of exposure; and there were reasons for supposing Germans were making use of most productive and cheap methods.

The paper said there was in the cabinet noir of a certain German prince, a book compiled by the secret service from reports of German agents who had infested England spreading vice and debauchery. More than a thousand pages of the book were filled with names mentioned by German agents in their reports including names of 47,000 English men and women.

Captain Spencer was ultimately passed out of the flying corps as physically unfit. Under cross-examination he said he had not been in the secret service. He was born in America and had never been naturalized in England.

ROCK ISLAND TO RECEIVE $750,000 FROM GOVERNMENT

Rock Island, Ill., May 30.—The Chamber of commerce has been officially advised of an allotment for Rock Island of $750,000 of the $60,000 appropriation by congress for housing government employees, providing the city will add $250,000 which has already been pledged. The million dollar fund thus provided will be used for the erection of 400 houses in the city for Rock Island arsenal workers. It is understood a similar number of houses will be erected in Moline and Davenport, Ia., on the same basis.

MRS. ALFRED GWYNN VANDERBILT TO MARRY

Washington, May 30.—Mrs. Alfred Gwynn Vanderbilt and Ray T. Baker, director of the mint, will be married at Mrs. Vanderbilt's country place at Lenox, Mass., early in June. Announcement was made today by Mrs. Vanderbilt's father, Captain Isaac E. Emerson of Baltimore.

DOESN'T WANT TO WIN ON POINTS

Detroit, May 30.—"America does not want to win this war on points; we want a knockout." In these words Colonel Roosevelt, making a Memorial Day address here tonight in behalf of the navy, summarized his conception of this country's war aims. He left shortly after midnight for New York. "If we don't carry it thru now," Colonel Roosevelt declared, "we will be forced to fight it out here later and without the allies."

NOW EMPLOYEES OF UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

McAdoo Warns R. R. Workers of Strike Consequences

(By Associated Press)
Washington, May 30.—Railroad employees were reminded by Director General McAdoo tonight that they are employees of the United States in time of war and that a strike means a blow at their own government and the hampering of transportation essential to protect the hundreds of thousands of American boys fighting on the battlefields of Europe.

In a telegram to the heads of all labor unions having shopmen among their members, Mr. McAdoo gave notice that the government cannot be coerced or intimidated and called upon railroad men to remain at their duty and rely on him and the new board of railroad wages and working conditions for just consideration of their claims. He asked the union leaders to urge upon their men by wire the wisdom and patriotism of this course.

A few days ago several hundred machinists and shop men at Alexandria, Va., left their posts in Southern Railroad shops in protest against small increases given them under the director-general's new wage scale of high wages, and there have been threats of a general walkout of union shopmen Monday unless substantial advances are forthcoming.

"The strike of certain shopmen, machinists, etc., in railroad shops at Alexandria, Va., has created a painful impression on the public," said the director-general's message. "I cannot believe these men understand what they are doing. They are now employees of the United States government, therefore it is a blow against the government. Such action is incredible. For good of our beloved country and for the honor of railroad men in the service everywhere I hope there will be no repetition of what every one must condemn as unpatriotic in highest degree. The government cannot be coerced or intimidated by any of its employees. It will do justice to all as far as it is possible to measure justice. Recognizing there are probable inequalities in recommendations of the wage commission I appointed in my general order No. 27 dated May 25, a board of railroad wages and working conditions composed of three representative labor men and three representative railroad men whose duty it is to pass on all petitions and complaints.

"Every class of employees or parts of classes of employees who feel they have just ground for complaint under the wage decision should submit their cases promptly to this board and there will be just and impartial consideration.

"The American people have just been called on to pay largely increased freight and passenger rates for paying in part increased wages amounting to more than three hundred million dollars awarded railroad employees.

"Suppose they should strike against the government because they do not think they are fairly treated in being forced to pay these increases for the benefit of labor, what would happen to this country? Suppose railroad officers should strike because they disliked orders of the government and should refuse to obey them? Suppose railroad employees should strike against decisions of their government and hamper operation of railroads when transportation is essential to protect hundreds of thousands of American boys on the battlefields of Europe to save lives, property and liberty of railroad employees serving here at home—what would happen to our country?

"The Kaiser would probably get it. We cannot all get exactly what we want in this world, and we win this war under no such conditions. We submit to laws of the land and to decisions of those in authority. We railroad men particularly must give unwavering and loyal support to our individual views and disappointments may be relying on a fair hearing of our complaints and justice of our cause and acceptance of our authority who under our terms are charged with responsibility of making them. While in the German drive now going on sons of railroad men and sons of Americans of every class are dying on battlefields of France to save American and democracy shall there be among us any man or set of men who are unwilling to sacrifice something of their personal views and individual desire to support America's heroes who are making the supreme sacrifice for us?

"I hope from one end of this land to the other it may never be said again any railroad man, officer or employee was so unpatriotic as to strike against his own government when it is in the midst of the most perilous war of history. It is the highest duty of patriotic men to remain at their posts with railroads where they are so urgently needed for safety of the country and to rely upon the board of railroad wages and working conditions and director general for just consideration of their claims. I am sure I can count on you to urge upon your men by wire the wisdom and patriotism of the course I have suggested."

EIGHTEEN WOMEN AND CHILDREN KILLED

GENEVA, May 30.—Eighteen women and children were trampled to death and a number of other persons were injured in a panic which followed an aerial raid alarm at midday in Mannheim yesterday. Streets were crowded when the alarm was given. It developed that warning signals were caused by sighting German aviators returning to their base near Mannheim.

COUNSEL FOR STRAUSS SATISFIED WITH TRIAL

Peoria, Ill., May 30.—After thanking the jury for their sacrifice and thanking Judge Robert J. Grier of Monmouth, Attorney Joseph Well, counsel for the defendant, told the jury in the E. A. Strauss murder trial here today that no matter what the verdict would be, Strauss had had a fair and impartial trial. Well explained to the jury the reasons why Strauss had not told his story of the shooting previous to the trial. His argument ended at noon when court recessed until tomorrow morning in observance of Memorial Day.

POLICE ACCOMPANY NAVAL TRAINING RECRUITING FLEET

Chicago, May 30.—Police sharpshooters today accompanied the Great Lakes Naval Training Station "fleet" on its trip about the city. Yesterday eggs were thrown from the floats from the window of a big building. The "fleet" consists of representations of a battleship, a destroyer and a U-boat and its mission is recruiting.

The Battle Tide

Ebb and Flow of Battle as Told in Official War Statements Issued By Belligerent Nations.

British Report

LONDON, May 30.—The text of the official statement issued by the war office today reads: "A successful local operation was carried out by French troops east of Dickebusch Lake last night resulting in an improvement of our position in that sector. "Beyond artillery activity on both sides there is nothing to report from the remainder of the British front."

Fighting Toward Marne

BERLIN, May 30.—via London.—"To the south of Fere-en-Tardenois," says the official report this evening from headquarters we are fighting our way toward the Marne."

Forts Have Fallen

BERLIN, May 30.—via London.—The forts on the northwestern front of Rheims have fallen.

German Report

BERLIN, May 30.—via London.—Crency-a-Mont, Juvisy and Cuffies, suburbs of Soissons lying to the north of that city, have been captured by the Germans according to the official statement issued by the war office which says that the number of prisoners has been increased to more than 35,000.

The text of the statement reads: "On the battle front between the Yser and the Oise, fighting activity has increased frequently. There were some local infantry engagements. The armies of the German crown prince are progressing victoriously. North of the Aisne, ground has been gained after hard fighting. Crency-a-Mont, Juvisy and Cuffies have been occupied."

of the country and to rely upon the board of railroad wages and working conditions and director general for just consideration of their claims. I am sure I can count on you to urge upon your men by wire the wisdom and patriotism of the course I have suggested."

Wherever American Flag is Flying It is at Half Mast—Flowers to be Placed on All American Graves.

With the American Army in France, May 30.—(By The Associated Press)—From Flanders to Switzerland and from the battle line to the sea the American expeditionary forces today are paying homage to their dead. Wherever American flags are flying the day is over the Star-Spangled Banner and flowers will be placed on virtually every American grave.

At some points the ceremony took place early in the morning while other exercises were held at various times throughout the day. Daylight saw some graves decorated. At one place in the vicinity of Luneville the graves had been decorated in the morning darkness when the enemy could not see the day is over the Star-Spangled Banner and flowers will be placed on virtually every American grave.

AIM WILL BE SPEED IN TRANSPORTATION

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—Speed in transportation will be the aim of Charles Markham, former president of the Illinois Central railroad in his new duties as regional director of railroads for the Pennsylvania system. Mr. Markham arrived here today and established himself at the general offices of the Pennsylvania railroad preparatory to beginning his duties on Saturday.

GERMANS PUSH FURTHER TOWARD THE RIVER MARNE

Seek Position Enabling Them To Turn To Westward

(By Associated Press)
AMERICAN HEADQUARTERS in France, May 30.—(By The Associated Press)—General Pershing's official communication covering the operations of Wednesday says: "In the Cantigny salient we have consolidated our positions in spite of heavy artillery and machine gun fire."

"In Lorraine we repulsed three raids during the night taking several prisoners and killing several of the enemy."

Held New Positions

Washington, May 30.—Complete repulse of further enemy attacks on the new American positions near Cantigny is announced in General Pershing's evening communique. Fighting continues active around Cantigny and in Lorraine.

U. S. Aviator Captured

With the American Army in France, May 30.—(By The Associated Press)—An American aviator was captured by the Germans today after his machine had fallen into No Man's Land. The flight in which the American's machine was damaged took place when five American pursuit machines engaged with a German aerial squadron while protecting a party of British bombers who were returning from a raid early this morning. Two of the enemy machines were shot down and another was forced to land out of control. The American's airplane came down between the lines. He was immediately covered by German rifles and ordered to walk into the enemy trenches, which he did with his hands above his head.

Considering Their Part

With the American Army in France, May 30.—(By The Associated Press)—The American soldiers today are considering their part they probably will play in the battle that is raging to the northwest of their positions. There is no doubt that every available man in France will be thrown into the combat wherever the French high command deems necessary. Whatever is to be done will be done. It is known until the Americans are actually engaged, for it would be inadvisable to discuss troop movements of any character. The battle between Soissons and Rheims has drained all activity from the zone in which the main body of the American expeditionary forces hold positions. Except for aerial fighting quiet is reported from all the fronts.

Increase Number of Prisoners

What the American Army in France, Wednesday, May 29.—(By The Associated Press)—The first German counter-attack against Cantigny took place at 5:10 o'clock Monday afternoon. It was preceded by a barrage. The second counter-attack was launched at 6:14 p. m. One enemy wave passed beyond the American barbed wire, but the infantrymen drove off the Germans in No Man's Land. The third counter-attack was made at 5 o'clock this morning when two German raids were repulsed with heavy losses. The number of German prisoners had been increased this afternoon to 242.

A score were captured this morning. They had hidden in deep caves yesterday and last night. The American field hospitals won the admiration of all yesterday. On one occasion officers abandoned their mess room to nurses who were making bandages and ate in the yard in front of the building.

A pathetic aftermath of yesterday's advance into Cantigny was the funeral service for several of the Americans this afternoon. It took place in a picturesque little cemetery near the front which had been recently shelled. The same as the American hospitals. Aged French women and little children stripped their gardens of flowers to cover the graves of the American heroes.

CAMP HEALTH CONDITIONS VERY GOOD.

Washington, May 30.—General health conditions throughout home camps continue to be very good the surgeon general of the army stated today in his health report for the week ending May 24. Pneumonia prevails extensively at Camps Travis, Texas, Dodge, Ia., and Gordon, Georgia, with measles generally prevalent at all cantonments.

Deaths decreased from 173 last week to 161 this week.

AVIATION INSTRUCTOR DIES.

Fort Worth, Tex., May 30.—Lieutenant P. G. Milleder, instructor at Tullahoma Field died this morning from injuries received Wednesday afternoon when his machine crashed to the earth. Lieutenant Buckus, who was with him at the time, escaped with a few scratches.

BOMBARDMENT OF PARIS IS RESUMED

PARIS, May 30.—Bombardment of Paris by the German long range gun which was interrupted early in the day was resumed at sunset.

WAS ASKED TO TEACH SABOTAGE IN ARMY

Witness to I. W. W. Trial Reveals Violence Practised By Members of the Organization.

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, May 30.—Private Frank Wormke, alias Frank Woods testified today at the trial of the 112 Industrial Workers of the World, that he was asked by members of the organization at the Minneapolis headquarters to teach sabotage in the American army. This sabotage Wormke said he was informed, could include placing a foreign substance in food to cause illness.

Wormke's tale of violence by members of the organization spanned a period of nearly two years during a part of which he worked as an organizer in the harvest fields, the big lumber camps, the shipping districts and the orange belt of California. He admitted committing acts of sabotage while I. W. W. delegate and said he received I. W. W. literature at least once a week after he entered the Jefferson Barracks. In substantiating of government charges that the organization taught the doctrines of sabotage and used it in the alleged conspiracy to block the war program, Wormke unfolded his own checkered career, told of deserting from the Colorado National Guard, of enlisting last summer at Alton, N. D., under a fictitious name to obtain release from charge as preferred by state authorities and testified that he as a delegate had been instructed to encourage violence.

In the big lumber camps of Washington and Oregon, Wormke and other members drove spikes into logs, wrenched cables under the back to wreck rail machinery. J. Okamoto spikes were driven into fields to break grain cycles and at least one member whom he named as James Edgars, carried a bottle of liquid in the Montana lumber district that would cause fire when thrown on wood.

"It was the usual practice of the organization," according to my understanding to plant grain shocks upside down," testified Wormke, appearing as a government witness. "At one time in South Dakota when I was working in a garden, I practiced sabotage by planting lettuce and other seeds so that when the sprouts came up, a dealer in industrial workers of the World would appear."

He testified that during the outbreaks in Kansas and Oklahoma harvest fields last year, the authorities were intimidated and in one case the sheriff himself was placed in jail. He testified that while secretary of the branch at San Pedro, Cal., he attempted to organize labor men and shut down export of munitions. The organization was one hundred per cent on the Atlantic. He said he was told. Under questions of Chief Prosecutor Nebeker and Special Prosecutor Porter, Wormke said members were advised to resist the draft and commit sabotage against big war industries.

AMERICANS PRAISED ON CANTIGNY CAPTURE

London, May 30.—Commenting on the capture of Cantigny by Americans the Evening News says:

"Bravo, young Americans! Nothing in today's battle narrative from the front is more exhilarating than the account of their fight at Cantigny. It was clean cut from beginning to end, like one of their countrymen's short stories and the short story of Cantigny is going to expand into a full length novel which will write the doom of the Kaiser and Kaiserism."

"We expected it, we have seen those young Americans in London and merely to glance at them was to know that they are conquerors and brothers in that great Anglo-Saxon-Latin compact which will bring down the diabolical Prussian idol, with its poisons and calumnies, to infamy, to throne, to chivalrous humanity again."

GERMAN SUBMARINES OFF AMERICAN COAST

An Atlantic Port, May 30.—Recent reports that German submarines have been lurking in southern waters off the American coast were given support today with the arrival here of a Brazilian steamship. The passengers said that on Saturday last when the ship was entering the gulf stream off the Florida coast a wireless warning to look out for submarines was received and that the captain immediately changed his course and made a very wide detour before heading again for this port. Sir Leslie Probyn, one of the passengers, former British governor-general of the Barbados, who is enroute to his new post of governor-general of Jamaica, said before leaving the ship he heard a German submarine had been sighted May 6th, near Bermuda. One such report was made by an American vessel, and another by a British vessel, he said.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

Palestine, Texas, May 30.—George Hicks of Peoria, Ill., a soldier from Camp Logan, Texas was killed by a freight train on the International & Great Northern railroad here today.

REPULSE ATTACKS OF GERMANS ON ALL U.S. POSITIONS

Despite Heavy Fire Americans Consolidate Positions

(By Associated Press)
WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, May 30.—By the Associated Press.—The Germans in the Champagne district pushed farther toward the river Marne today. The intention of the Teutons probably is to secure a position enabling them to turn to the westward with the bulk of their attacking armies.

French Official Report
PARIS, May 30.—"We have prevented enemy progress in the western outskirts of Soissons," says the official report from French headquarters tonight.

"To the south we solidly hold the left bank of the Crys river. The Germans are multiplying their efforts in the direction of Villenard-Tardenois."

"In the center the fighting has not diminished in intensity. The Germans have occupied Fere-en-Tardenois and Vezilly."

"The battle continued today with undiminished violence along the whole extent of the front. On our right and to the northwest of Rheims we are holding our positions."

"The enemy air forces which have been very aggressive and numerous during the battle have been attacked with the greatest daring by French airmen, who destroyed nineteen German machines, brought down two balloons and compelled twenty-three enemy airplanes to land in a damaged condition. On the night of May 27-28, French aviators dropped 25 tons of explosives on bridges and crossings on the Ailette and Aisne and on various cantonments. The next night and day 37 tons of bombs were dropped on convoys troops and railway stations."

"Eastern theater, May 29.—Strong artillery actions occurred along the Dobran front, the Vardar, west of the Vardar and in the Serbian sector. South of Lake Doiran a Bulgarian fortified work the garrison of which was annihilated. On the front of the French army bad weather hindered activity."

NATION WARNED AGAIN.

Washington, May 30.—The nation was warned again today by the food administration that there must be no relaxing in conservation of wheat if necessary shipments are to be made to American fighters overseas and allied people.

"The food administration's estimate of the position in June," says the warning, "indicates available supply until the new harvest of about 5,000 bushels. Of this 30,000,000 bushels must be exported before the new wheat is available if we care to maintain shipments to our army and the allies. That leaves about 26,000,000 bushels for domestic consumption for the next two months."

REFUSE TO WORK.

Aberdeen, Wash., May 30.—Refusing to work unless paid $4.40 double time, about half the crew of the Grays Harbor Motor Ship Yards walked out this morning forcing a shutdown of the plant for the day. Sixty per cent of the crew of the Grant Smith-Porter Brothers company yards also declined to work, but the yard was not closed.

FRENCH GENERAL KILLED IN ACTION

Paris, May 30.—According to the Havas correspondent at the front the French general killed Tuesday on the field of honor was General Pierre de Vallieres. He was struck by a shell fragment while leading his men. General de Vallieres was 49 years old.

a wall—well, it's no business for a gentleman!"

Was it not a somewhat similar sentiment that the kaiser himself expressed as reported by Ambassador Gerard, anent the sinking of the Lusitania, "that no gentleman likes to drown women and children?"

Eventually we may be able to discover the German standard for gentlemanly conduct.

Times have changed a lot since the day when local Y. M. C. A. people hesitated about putting in ordinary amusements in their rooms to the present time, when a general secretary of that organization springs to the defense with the declaration that the "Y" gives quantities of cigarettes to their patrons, and they add plenty of tobacco where they can obtain it. Many oppose the use of tobacco in any form, but when it adds to the comfort of the men in the field the Y. M. C. A. does well.

WIN THE WAR.

The president has said that "politics has adjourned," and in the ordinary sense that should be true at this time. That is the reason why the Republican platform adopted by the state convention in Indiana has for its dominant note the following plank: "In this country today there is for every individual and for every political party but one supreme duty, and that is to win the war, and the following applies particularly to the Republican party: 'Every action of the Republican party in state and nation shall be determined solely by how we can add most to the sum total of war good. This loyalty of the Republican party always and forever shall be measured only by the possibilities.' That is good doctrine and should be followed by the Republicans of the state of Illinois and every division of the state. Every loyal member of the party will be his own judge of the candidates offered, and will vote only for men who they are convinced will stand firmly on that motto, 'Win the war.' Vote for no man of doubtful loyalty."

THIS DATE IN HISTORY

May 21, 1862.—Proposed Illinois State Constitution, 1862. How the soldiers are voting: 5th Illinois Cavalry: For the Constitution, 24; against it, 729. Thirty-third Illinois Infantry: For the Constitution, 5; against it, 585. So it goes. Give the Illinois soldiers a chance to vote and the proposed iniquitous constitution will be repudiated in just about this proportion by them.

RIPPLING RHYMS

WARTIME LOAFING.

In sundry sections men have risen, and cried, in ringing voices, that idle hands should go to prison or else bestir their bones. The scheme is good and I endorse it, for every man on deck should work until he busts his corset, or dislocates his neck. Oh, every corner has its loafer, who will not earn a wage, and him the village cop should go for, and put him in a cage. The man unfit to wield a saber, or carve Tombs with a sword, should try a course of honest labor—pitch hay or saw a board. There is a place for every sinner who has one leg and arm, and he can earn a bed and dinner on any moral farm. Yet husky men are idly standing in town, forevermore, and hold as brass they are demanding a handout at your door. In times of peace they got by; but now all men should put up clover or hunt their holes and die. The earnest, busy lads are packing the burdens of this time; and idleness is truly slacking, and slacking is a crime. There's no excuse for Weary Wilkes, their presence is a sin; so let the peelers take their bibles, and run the loafers in.

Great Parade the Proof of Patriotism

By common consent the Decoration Day parade yesterday was accounted the largest and best ever given in Jacksonville on a like occasion. In fact, there have been few parades or pageants in the history of Jacksonville to measure up to it. While credit is due the committee which so ably managed this parade, as in various war activities the greatest credit must be given to the people themselves. For in truth the observance of the day must be classed among the war activities and it was the great interest of the people in the war today and in all patriotic efforts which made this splendid pageant possible.

Without the interest of the people it would have been impossible to secure the presence and participation of so many thousands of men, women and children. The parade can be properly said to represent the American feeling—the patriotic feeling—of the people, which in recent months has been given a marked impetus by war events. Without disparagement it can be safely said that such a parade would not have been possible a year ago. There was not interest among the people to back it up or give it strength. They say that an army at the front is just as strong as the people at home are patriotic and earnest. So the spirit displayed in Decoration Day events of 1918 can be taken as a fine evidence of the deep patriotic feeling of the people here. Seeing the thousands who took part in that parade and considering the other thousands who watched and applauded them, there can be no doubt about the aroused, earnest patriotism of the people and their willingness and ability to back the soldiers at the front, to back their government with all the man power, all the money power at their command. It is an omen as to the final ending of this war, for what happened in Jacksonville no doubt happened in a hundred—yes a thousand—other cities of the United States. So there is no gauging the fact that the citizens of the United States possibly a little slow in their enthusiasm in some sections—now stand with united front and the kaiser and his associates are facing the patriotic and undying interest of a hundred million people.

Add that to the allied support and even the mind of a German sympathizer must be convinced that the odds are too heavy for Germany and the victory for liberty and democracy is only a question of time. It is the arousing of such interest and enthusiasm as resulted from the Decoration Day parade and program that will shorten that time.

In preparing for past parades on Decoration Day, Fourth of July and similar occasions, the committees have always been promised more assistance and more participants than the day and event finally realized. In the past there have been individuals and organizations which at the last moment found it was too much trouble to prepare for a parade, their interest lagged or for some other reason they failed to appear at the appointed time. But yesterday it was entirely different and the committee at the close of the parade was able to check up its record and show 100 per cent attendance. The people who promised floats provided them and in most cases they were more elaborate than anticipated. The organizations which promised to take part, did so. There was the proof of real public interest and enthusiasm. It was indeed a people's parade, a demonstration of their devotion to their government and to their principles.

Veterans of the Civil war came in for new reverence, and as they honored the soldiers of other days, and acknowledged the debt to them, the people took on new vows of devotion to home and country and liberty.

OIL DEMAND MAKES BUSINESS IN OKLAHOMA

Former Resident Writes of Recent Special Development—Government Sold Lands with Drilling Requirements.

In a recent letter to a Jacksonville friend, John A. Rawling, now of Bartlesville, Okla., gave some interesting facts about the oil industry and general conditions in Bartlesville, Tulsa and other cities as the result of the present great oil and gas demand.

This section of the country is enjoying a prosperity as never experienced before. Copious rains have fallen this spring and the wheat and oat crop bids fair to make excellent yields. All kind of garden truck is doing fine and the potato crop will be a big one. Oil is now selling at $2.25 per barrel and there is still considerable drilling in this territory. Of course the wells do not come in now as large as a number of years ago on account of the lower gas pressure but the average producer is highly elated if he can now bring in a 10 barrel well at a depth of 1500 feet at the prevailing price of $2.25 per barrel. A great many gasoline plants have been constructed in this locality. They put a suction or vacuum on the oil wells which produce gas also and by certain process take the gasoline from the gas. The producers usually realize large returns from the sale of his gas in this way besides his oil production is often increased fifty per cent by reason of the suction placed upon his wells.

Government Sold Land.

The Government has recently sold thousands of acres of oil lands in the Osage Nation adjoining Bartlesville to the west. Most of the leases on this land were sold upon the condition that a well must be drilled upon each tract within a specified time. This mandate will of course soon start hundreds of drills in operation. Bartlesville will be the headquarters and distributing point for this great field of operation and she will profit greatly thereby. This city like Tulsa and many other Oklahoma towns is making a wonderful growth. Houses are under construction all over town and every house is occupied and enormous rents are paid.

Bartlesville Booms.
The great increase in population

tion is largely due to the Empire Gas and Fuel Company and allied interests making this their headquarters for the Mid Continent field and bringing hundreds of employees here from other states. The corner stone of the new Masonic building was laid last week under impressive services and witnessed by an immense throng. This building covers a half block and is nine stories in height and is said to be the second largest building in the State of Oklahoma in point of floor space. The Masonic hall of Bartlesville will occupy the entire top floor and the Empire Gas and Fuel Company have taken a long time lease on the remainder of the building. The Government is building an oil experimental station here destined to be of service in any way possible to the oil fraternity. The fact of this location in Bartlesville has brought this city very much in the limelight in oildom throughout the country.

People Patriotic.

This section of Oklahoma is intensely patriotic and loyal to Uncle Sam. Each and every call for the purchase of Liberty Bonds and contributions for the Red Cross have been oversubscribed. Hundreds of the finest type of young manhood have gone from here to the training camps and many of them are battling the Hun in the first line of trenches somewhere in France.

It is very probable that the Government will establish an aero plane school at Dewey, a few miles north of Bartlesville. A company composed of Bartlesville and Dewey capitalists was organized sometime ago for the purpose of building flying machines and giving instruction in flying. It is reported this company has ten machines under construction at this time. A Mr. Parker, an expert flyer and in charge of the project has had a machine there for several months and makes daily flights over Bartlesville and surrounding country. He has made several trips to Tulsa and Oklahoma City accompanied by Col. Joe A. Bartles of Dewey, capitalist and oil man, and who is much interested in a financial way in the company.

READING MATTER FOR SOLDIERS.

The soldiers entraining from Jacksonville have thus far had a pleasant surprise in the way of packages of good magazines and papers, prepared by Miss Olive M. Blunt in the department of literature distributed by the Jacksonville Y. M. C. A. She was assisted in the last two entrainments by Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. McCrory. Papers were donated by Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Christman, Mrs. Kent and Mrs. Fletcher and Misses Riley, Blunt and Dewese. The packages contained a number of papers, a copy of Uncle Sam's song book, a few helpful leaflets, etc. Anyone having copies of the Saturday Evening Post, The Literary Digest, Youth's Companion, Patriot, The Wellspring, Clarinet, Union Signal or other denominational papers, will please report to Miss Blunt or some other member of the Jacksonville union. Each man is asked to be responsible for the package enroute and to keep the papers or lay them on the Y. M. C. A. table in the camp.

CHILDREN'S DAY SERVICE.

A patriotic children's day service will be given at Lynnville, Christian church Sunday evening at 8:15 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

MISS MCCOOL IS SERIOUSLY ILL.

FOOD ADMINISTRATION NOTES

What to Have on Picnics.
Say "picnic" and the mind leaps to thoughts of bacon or beef and all sorts of sandwiches. But it isn't necessary to use wheat and meat on a picnic more than at any other time. Notice these picnic suppers suggested by the United States Food Administration.

1. Potatoes (Baked in Bonfire)
Wheatless Bread Butter
Hard boiled eggs
Tomatoes
Barley Flour Cookies
Ice Cream or Fruit

2. Wheatless Bread Sandwiches of Lettuce and Jam.
Potato Salad
Dates Stuffed with Cream Cheese
Coffee in Thermos Bottle

3. Wheatless Bread and Butter
Jelly
Oranges
Marshmallows to roast
Wheatless Bread

1 cup liquid
4 tablespoons fat
4 tablespoons syrup
2 eggs
6 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups barley flour
1 cup ground rolled oats
Mix with the liquid the melted fat, syrup and eggs. Combine the liquid and well mixed dry ingredients. Bake as a loaf in a moderately hot oven for one hour or until thoroughly baked. Nuts, raisins or dates may be added if desired.

Barley Flour Cookies
1-4 cup fat
3-4 cup sugar
1 egg
2 tablespoons milk
2 cups barley flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1-3 cups chopped raisins
1-4 cup chopped nuts
1-4 teaspoon cinnamon
1-4 teaspoon cloves

Combine the ingredients as for cake, add enough barley flour to make a dough stiff enough to be rolled. Roll thin, shape with small cookie cutter and bake on tin sheet.

Every Grain of Wheat Counts

In the first months of conservation, the housewives of the country were often heard to complain: "But what is the use of our trying to save food in our kitchens when waste on so much larger scale is everywhere going on, among the men, in public eating places, on trains, in the manufacture of food, etc."

This may have been true some months ago. But it is no longer a fair complaint. The men of the country, both in business and in private, are doing their bit in a patriotic effort to conserve the world's food.

Since the increasing need for saving wheat has been made plain by the U. S. Food Administration many hotels and restaurants all over the country have voluntarily pledged themselves to do without wheat until the new harvest.

And now an effort is to be made to increase the coming wheat harvest by clean threshing. It has been estimated that 3 bushels of grain in every 100 threshed can be saved by better methods. Where grain has been exceptionally poorly threshed as much as 10% has gone into the straw stack. In some instances the farmers of the central west re-threshed old wheat stacks last fall adding considerably to their grain stores. To correct this waste has become very important with our war time needs and the Food Administration Grain Corporation has this year established a special Grain Threshing Division to start a campaign of education and actual help among the farmers of the country.

Still further effort to increase the flour output during this crisis is being made by urging farmers not to hold over any of their crop for seed. Even if we have only a normal crop there is little fear that any risk would be run in not holding over seed for next year's sowing. During the next few months every bushel of grain that can be recovered may play a leading role in the drama of war. Wheat saving is not alone a matter of using less in the country's kitchens but of recovering more in every possible way, whether it be from the wheat stacks or the farmer's seed sacks.

Food Budget for a Family of Five
The Orcutt family all looked well fed. In fact, Mrs. Orcutt considered that her job; to see that they were well fed. Before marriage she had taught Domestic Science in the local High School, and it was her proud boast that though the piano keys might not always be free of dust, there was always a well balanced ration at her table.

Even in peace times there was never extravagance nor waste in her food budget. So that the wartime feeding of her family was merely the matter of a little more careful marketing and a schedule of substitutes. With pencil and pad she early made out an actual apportionment of necessary quantities and the various food elements required for health according to the respective habits and ages of her family.

Mr. Orcutt being a business man had need of only an average amount of calories. The twelve-year-old son had the healthy appetite of a growing boy while the two little girls, nine and three, had to have plenty of nourishing food, including whole milk.

This was the weekly ration she worked out for her family of five:

1. Meat and meat substitutes.
4 lbs. meat;
2 lbs. fresh fish;
1 lb. salt fish;
1 doz. eggs;
1 lb. cheese;
2 lbs. dried beans or split peas.
2. Fats.
2 lbs. butter or oleomargarine.
1 lb. cooking fat.
3. Milk.

1 1/2 quarts whole milk.
4. Sugars.
3 lbs. sugar;
1 lb. corn syrup, molasses or honey.
5. Cereal products.
12 lbs. of all cereals.
6. Fresh vegetables.
25 lbs. potatoes;
14 lbs. other fresh vegetables.
7. Fruit.
14 lbs. according to season.

Her schedule for substitutes was a sliding scale. These were governed by conditions and by changing seasons, and also by the necessary changes made from time to time in the program of the United States Food Administration.

According to the fifty-fifty rule, she could purchase six pounds of wheat in this allotted total of twelve pounds of cereal. But because she is a true patriot, as well as a capable cook, she has cut out entirely the use of wheat, and she still gives her family a perfectly wholesome and satisfying diet. One way of doing this has been to increase her vegetable ration, particularly of potatoes, so that they need less bread. She has also learned to make entirely wheatless bread, and wheatless shortcakes for dessert.

Some New Wheatless Recipes

These recipes have been tried out in the laboratory of the United States Food Administration.

Barley Biscuits

4 cups barley flour
6 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons fat
1-4 cups liquid.

Sift dry materials together. Work in fat well. Combine liquid and dry materials, handling lightly. Roll or pat 1-2 inch thick and cut as biscuits.

Rice Flour and Barley Flour Chocolate Cake.

1-2 cup fat
2-3 cup sugar
3 eggs
1 cup syrup
3-4 cup milk
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup rice flour
2 cups barley flour
6 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 squares chocolate

Cream the fat, sugar and egg yolks. Add the syrup and mix well. Add alternately the liquid, and the dry ingredients sifted together. Add flavoring and melted chocolate. Fold in well beaten egg whites. Bake about one hour in a moderately hot oven.

Corn Flour Sponge Cake

4 eggs
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoonsfuls lemon juice
1-8 teaspoon salt
1 cup corn flour.

Separate the whites and yolks of eggs. Beat the yolks until thick and like lemon color. Beat sugar into the stiffened yolks, then add the lemon juice and salt. Fold in alternately the stiffly beaten whites and flour. Bake in an ungreased pan for 35 to 40 minutes. Start in a moderate oven and when about half done raise the temperature to that of a hot oven.

Muffins
3-4 cup ground rolled oats
1 cup corn flour
1 teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup liquid
2 eggs
1 tablespoon fat
2 tablespoons syrup.

Sift the dry ingredients together. To the liquid add the eggs slightly beaten, the fat and syrup. Combine the two mixtures with just as little stirring as possible. Bake in a moderately hot oven 30 minutes.

FAREWELL TO SOLDIERS

A great crowd gathered at the Wabash station Friday afternoon following the opera house meeting to say farewell to the departing soldiers. The parade from the opera house included the Liberty Band, the selected men, the members of G. A. R. and Co. C. The train was a few minutes late and during the interim the Liberty Band gave a fine program. The train brought several coach loads of men from counties west of Morgan and there was a great deal of cheering as the men appeared at the windows and on the platform. It was not nearly so much a tearful farewell as it was cheerful, and the men in this contingent entrained as the band played martial airs and the people cheered.

MISS OLMSTED SAFE AT HOME

Miss Florence Ward received yesterday information that Miss Katherine Olmsted, so well known in Jacksonville, is again in America, after her strenuous experiences in Roumania, where she went as a Red Cross nurse. The party of Red Cross nurses sent to Roumania to study conditions, was there at the time of the lapse of the Russian government and members of the party had some thrilling experiences in making their way to a neutral country and securing passage to America. After a time spent at home the party is expecting to go abroad again for war work. Miss Ward received one letter written May 22 on board steamer and another when in Washington.

Many new restaurants and lunch rooms intended primarily for women patrons are being started in the larger cities as one of the results of the increased employment of women and girls in business.

THE KAISER'S TALK TO HELL.

The Kaiser called the Devil up on the telephone one day. The girl at Central listened to all they had to say.

"Hello," she heard the Kaiser's voice.

"Is old man Satan home, just tell him this is Kaiser Bill. That wants him on the phone."

The Devil said, "Hello" to Bill. And Bill said, "How are you. I am running here a Hell on Earth. So tell me what to do."

"What can I do?" the Devil said. "My dear old Kaiser Bill? If there's a thing that I can do

To help you, I sure will.

The Kaiser said, "Now listen, And I will try to tell The way that I am running On Earth a modern Hell.

"I've saved for this per many years And I've started out to kill. That it will be a modern job, You leave to Kaiser Bill.

"My army went thru Belgium, Shooting women and children down, We tore up all her country, And blew up all her towns.

"My Zepps dropped bombs on cities, Killing both old and young, And those the Zeppelins didn't get We've taken out and hung.

"I started out to Paris With the aid of poisonous gas, The Belgians, dern 'em stopped us And would not let us pass.

"My Submarines are Devils, Why, you should see them fight, They go sneaking thru the sea, And sluk a ship at sight.

"I was running things to suit me, Till a year or so ago, When a man called Woodrow Wilson, Wrote me to go more slow.

"He said to me, 'Dear William, We don't want to make you sore, So be sure to tell your U-boats To sink our ships no more.

"We have told you for the last time, So, dear Bill, it's up to you, And if you do not stop it, You have got to fight us too."

"I did not listen to him, And he's coming after me, With a million Yankee Soldiers, From their homes across the sea.

"I've been a mean old Devil, But not half as mean as you, And the minute that you get here, I will give my job to you.

"I'll be ready for your coming, And I'll keep the fires all bright And I'll have your room all ready When the Yanks begin to fight.

MEN NEEDED FOR SPECIAL ARMY WORK

An opportunity for men specialized in telephone, telegraph or radio work to enlist in the army is offered by Major Clarence A. Dougherty, Signal Officer of the 8th Division, at Camp Zachary Taylor, Kentucky, near Louisville.

Major Dougherty has received permission from the War Department to induct into the service about seventy-five men to specialized work in the Division Signal Battalion.

The men especially desired are those who have had practical experience in wireless telegraphy, telephone switch board operators, telephone line repair men, telegraph operators. In addition there are places open for experienced men as follows:

1 or 2 electrical instrument makers, or repair men; 5 cable splicers; 1 or 2 cooks; 1 or 2 cabinet makers; 1 first class stenographer; 1 expert dog trainer.

The men who make application should have a fair education, but need not be college graduates," said Major Dougherty. If they speak French or German they are all the more desirable.

"Men within the draft can be inducted into the service provided they have not received orders to report to some definite place. Even though they have been physically examined and classified, they can still be inducted under this arrangement if they have not received their final orders to report."

Any men of these qualifications who desire to enter the service should call or write Major Clarence A. Dougherty, Division Signal Officer, Camp Zachary Taylor, Ky.

HOSPITAL ILLNESS HAS COMPENSATIONS
Somewhere in France, May 28.—Letter writing has become all the rage among the wounded U. S. Marines confined to the base hospitals here.

The reason is a French stenographer writes one, too, who has volunteered to write letters home for her incapacitated American brothers.

The stenographer makes a daily visit to the Marine hospitals for dictation and the wounded devil dogs have suddenly become literary giants. They anxiously await her visits and fairly swarm her with mail.

"Gee, if I only had about three more nints and six more cousins to write to," sighed one husky soldier, as the pretty little "steno" moved on to the next cot.

Girls wanted for light work. Apply superintendent Swift and Co.

Our destroyers and scout ships are waiting for the sudden attack or the deadly torpedo—the watch on the Atlantic is on the lookout for the first indication of hidden danger—it's a fight for life. For those leading a quiet life at home it is often the unexpected that happens. It may be that we are mysteriously attacked by pain in our back or limbs, lumbago, "neuralgic" pains—shooting anywhere. Backache of any kind is often caused by kidney disorder, which means that the kidneys are not working properly. Poisonous matter and uric acid accumulate within the body in great abundance, overworking the sick kidneys. Perhaps you become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish, irritable, have spots appearing before the eyes, bags under the lids, and lack of ambition to do things. The latest and most effective means of overcoming such trouble, is to drink plenty of water between meals, and take a single Ansuric Tablet before each meal for a while, or until recovered.

Simply ask your favorite druggist for Ansuric Tablets (double strength). If you have lumbago, begin immediately with this newest discovery of Dr. Pierce's.

Send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalid's Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.

Chicago, Ill.—"I suffered for four years with pain in my back. I tried everything there was out, but all failed to help me. I even went to a doctor and he could not cure my backache. A friend of mine advised me to try a package of Dr. Pierce's Ansuric Tablets, and so I did. I used two packages, and the pains were gone."—Walter Carlson, 120 Sedgewick St.

TRACK STARS TO BATTLE FOR HONORS
Philadelphia, Pa., May 30.—All arrangements have been completed for the forty-second annual track and field championship games of the Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic association, which are to be held on Franklin Field tomorrow and Saturday under the auspices of the University of Pennsylvania.

While the entry list is not up to the high record established in past years, owing to the absence of so many college athletes in the military service, there is every promise that the program will produce some interesting performances. The contestants will include the best athletic productions of nearly a score of large universities and colleges in the east, augmented by high-class delegations from several mid-west institutions. A total of more than 700 performers will be seen in the thirteen events composing the two-day program.

The list of colleges which have entered teams include Yale, Columbia, Princeton, Cornell, Dartmouth, Amherst, Fordham, Pennsylvania, Penn State, Michigan, New York university, Johns Hopkins, Lafayette, Georgetown, Massachusetts Tech, and Swarthmore.

The weaker portion of the 700 runners, leapers, jumpers and weight hurriers will be eliminated tomorrow in the trials and on Saturday the team scoring the largest number of points will carry home the championship.

PATRIOTIC SERVICE
The Sunday night meeting at First Baptist church will be strictly patriotic. The G. A. R. and Woman's Relief Corps will be guests of honor. A service flag will be presented by the Amoma Bible class. Two short talks, one by a Union soldier and one by a Confederate soldier, followed by patriotic address by pastor, A. A. Todd. The public cordially invited.

STATE WAR CONTRACTS RUN TO BIG FIGURES

Orders for More than $100,000,000 Worth of Munitions and Supplies Placed in Six Weeks.

The War Industries Committee representing the manufacturing interests of Illinois, which was created some time ago at the instance of the State Council of Defense, to secure for this state adequate participation in war work, has made its first report to the State Council of Defense.

S. M. Hastings, chairman of the War Industries Committee, says definite progress toward a more general distribution of government business in Illinois has been made since the conference of manufacturers called by the State Council on March 14. Among the significant achievements of the committee he mentioned:

Contracts Placed.
Government contracts for munitions and supplies amounting to more than $100,000,000 have been placed in Illinois since March 14.

The Production Division of the Ordnance Department has located a paymaster here, thru whom disbursements to manufacturers on government business are made.

A branch production office of the Emergency Fleet Corporation has been established to expedite production and procure factories for taking on the Emergency Fleet Corporation work.

An office for speeding up production in the aircraft department has been located in Chicago.

The Quartermaster general has authorized establishment of a purchasing office in Chicago for eight middle west states, thru which all the supplies needed by the Quartermaster's Department will be purchased. Heretofore only food stuffs have been purchased by the Quartermaster's Office in Chicago.

The Rock Island Arsenal is purchasing supplies as far as possible in Illinois.

Purchasing officers in the aircraft section are being urged to purchase supplies in Illinois for the training schools at Rantoul and Belleville, to avoid long railroad hauls.

The Navy Department has established an inspection office in Chicago.

Co-operation of all industrial and commercial organizations in the state has been effected, and industries in the market for government business have been grouped by trades, including description of plant and capacity, so that government representatives can be put in direct touch with any industry or plant whose services may be desired.

Labor Furnishes Figures.
Labor organizations have co-operated in furnishing information as to the available man power which can be utilized by the government in producing munitions.

Co-operation of the purchasing offices in various government departments has also been secured in the way of suggestion to guide Illinois manufacturers in past methods and procedure.

The Chicago Association of Commerce is working in close touch with the government purchasing agents and the Illinois Manufacturers Association has opened a branch office in Washington to act as a clearing house of information between government buyers and the Illinois manufacturers.

The War Industries Committee is now particularly concerned to secure a longer period of time between advertisement of bids by the Navy Department and the general engineer depot and the date of opening bids. The time usually allowed is six days. This practically eliminates bidding by Illinois manufacturers because it leaves too little time in which to make copies of proposals, blue print and the like on which the manufacturer can make figures.

The War Industries Committee feel that important results have already been obtained and that the future will bring a large increase of government business to the industries of Illinois as a consequence of the creation of this committee.

UNIQUE SOLDIERS' MEMORIAL
London, May 30.—On the day that people throughout a large part of the United States are engaged in paying tribute to the memory of their soldier dead, it may be interesting to learn of the simple and beautiful idea adopted in the little Lancashire village of Beetham for perpetuating the memory of those who have fallen in the Great War.

An oak cross, beautifully polished, standing about five feet high, has been erected near the door of the village church. On the cross have been nailed small brass plates, about two inches square, each bearing an inscription which tells how Private — or Captain — was killed in action in Flanders or elsewhere.

There are now half a dozen or so little brass plates on the cross, showing the heavy toll the war has taken even in such a tiny out-of-the-world hamlet as Beetham.

A SUCCESSFUL REMEDY
All things succeed which really deserve to, which fill a real need, which prove their worth. The fact that the famous old root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has for three generations been reviving women in a country from the worst forms of female weakness, is a strong place in our American homes proves its merit beyond the question of a doubt. It will well pay any woman who is in need of such a medicine to try it.

ENLIST—AND GO TO COLLEGE.

By P. P. Claxton, U. S. Commissioner of Education.

Many a 1918 high school graduate is debating with himself this year: Shall I go to college? or shall I enlist at once for military service?

The War Department has just made it possible to do both. It says, in effect, to the ambitious young American: "You serve your country by going to college. To make sure that you do not lose thereby the opportunity of serving your country in a direct military capacity, you will be asked to join the special U. S. Army college training units that are to be formed. You will be liable for service at a moment's notice, but because you are worth more to the nation with your college training than without it, you will be expected to stay in college until called by the Government."

The War Department's announcement provides that beginning with September 1918, military instruction, under officers and non-commissioned officers of the Army, will be provided in every institution of college grade enrolling for the instruction on hundred or more able-bodied students over the age of eighteen.

The necessary military equipment will be provided by the Government. There will be created a military training unit in each institution. Enlistment will be purely voluntary, but all students over the age of eighteen will be urged to enlist.

The student will constitute the student a member of the Army of the United States, liable to active duty at the call of the President. It will, however, be the policy of the Government not to call the members of the training units to active duty until they have reached the age of twenty-one, unless urgent military necessity compels an earlier call.

Students who are not eligible for enlistment, will be encouraged to enroll in the training units. Provision will be made for coordinating the Reserve Officers' Training Corps System, which exists in about one-third of the college institutions, with this broader plan.

"This new policy aims to accomplish a twofold object," the War Department announces, "first to develop as a great military asset the large body of young men in the colleges, and second, to prevent unnecessary and wasteful depletion of the colleges through indiscriminate volunteering, by offering the students a definite and immediate military status."

No nation has made such generous provision for combined military and college education as has the United States in this new plan. The youth which will be the real strength of the nation will be serving their country's immediate as well as future needs.

Stork and Cupid Cuning Plotters

Many a New Home will Have a Little Sunbeam to Brighten it.

Cupid and the stork are held up to veneration; they are rated as cunning plotters to herald the coming of the little sunbeam to gladden the hearts and brighten the homes of a host of happy families.

There is a more remarkable preparation, known as Mother's Friend, which has been used by women for over half a century before the arrival of the stork. This is a penetrating external application for the abdomen and breast. By daily use throughout the waiting months, strain and tension is relieved. The muscles are made elastic and pliable such that when baby comes they expand with ease and the pain and danger at the crisis is naturally less.

Then, too, the nerves are not torn and drawn with that usual wrenching strain, and many distresses, such as nervousness, nausea, heartburn, down and stretching pains, are among the discomforts and debilitating experiences women who have used Mother's Friend say they have entirely escaped by application of this time-honored remedy.

Thousands of women have used Mother's Friend and know from experience that it is one of the greatest contributions to healthy, happy motherhood.

Write to the Bradford Regulator Co., Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their "Motherhood Book." There is a wealth of instruction and comfort to be derived from reading this little book. It is plainly written just what every woman wants to know. Get a bottle of Mother's Friend from the druggist today, and thus fortify yourself against pain and discomfort.

HOW MUCH DO YOU GET WASTE SAVE?

THINK IT OVER

Why does anyone work hard for money and then waste it? What you waste, if it were put into the bank, would pile up so fast you could finally invest it in some substantial thing.

That money you are wasting now would make your old age comfortable and happy if you had it in our bank.

Come in and see us, we will cheerfully advise you.

MEMORIAL DAY
AT WINCHESTER

Day Is Fittingly Observed By Residents of Scott County Seat—Commencement Exercises Held for High School Graduates.

Winchester, May 30.—Decorations day here was an event long to be remembered by Winchester residents. On account of the war the day was of special interest to all and the program and exercises carried out during the day took on new and added significance.

In the morning at ten o'clock the high school pupils gave a program in honor of the Grand Army veterans in the assembly room. Several excellent orations and declamations were given, and Earl Lashmet gave a short talk on his life at the Great Lakes Naval Training station.

At two o'clock this afternoon the usual Decoration Day G. A. R. exercises were held. A large crowd assembled on the square where the program was carried out as follows:

Music—Merritt Band.
Prayer—Rev. George Murray.
Song—High school boys.
A brief business session was then held during which time it was decided to have the younger men handle the arrangements for the Decoration programs in the future, thus relieving the older veterans of these duties. This was done with the consent and approval of the Grand Army men.

Following the program the old soldiers and escort moved to the cemetery. Those in the parade are given in the order of their march: Member of G. A. R. in autos, high school boys, color bearers, Merritt Band, Red Cross workers and grade school children.

This evening at the Methodist church the high school commencement was held. The church which will accommodate over a thousand was packed. Dr. Ray Norris Miller made the address of the evening, taking as his subject "The Challenge of Democracy."

In presenting the diplomas to the graduates, Dr. Fletcher, president of the board of education called attention to several unusual conditions which were connected with the graduation this year. One vacant chair was draped with the American flag and also with a service flag.

This chair was so arranged in honor of Jesse Evans, a member of the class, and a boy who would have graduated this year but for his enlistment in the United States army. He is now in France with the American Expeditionary forces.

Earl Lashmet received his diploma attired in the regulation navy uniform. Miss Loretta Coultas, who during the twelve years of attendance in school has never been absent or tardy, was awarded a gold medal by the board of education for her punctuality.

Miss Mildred Funk, Mrs. Charles Priest and daughter Miss Eula and Miss Margaret Priest of Jacksonville were visitors here tonight and attended the commencement exercises.

WILSON ASSISTS IN
RIVETING SHIP KEEL

Ship Named by Mrs. Wilson in Honor of George Mason—Author of Virginia Bill of Rights.

Alexandria, Va., May 30.—President Wilson lent a hand today in driving a rivet in the keel of what will be the Steamer Gunston Hall, a 9400 ton freighter for the shipping board.

Mrs. Wilson also played a part in the keel laying, guiding the last vertical plate into position and naming the ship as she did. Naming the vessel Gunston Hall, Mrs. Wilson chose the name of the famous old home of George Mason, author of the Virginia bill of rights and one of the foremost thinkers of Colonial days.

Mason surveyed the district of Columbia and a marked place by him still stands where the vessel will take the water. Charles W. Morse of New York representing the controlling financial interest in the Virginia shipbuilding company builders of the Gunston Hall, welcomed the president and Mrs. Wilson and in the party from Washington were Senators Martin of Virginia; Simmons of North Carolina; and Fletcher of Florida; Speaker Clark, former Speaker Cannon; Representative Carl in of Virginia and other notables.

As the president stepped forward several motion picture cameras began to click. Some one asked Mr. Wilson if he objected: "Not at all. I'm not camera shy," he replied and joined in the laughter which followed.

Robert Mooney, rivet foreman, then placed the heavy pneumatic hammer in position against the rivet head and William Sims leaned his weight against the "holder-on hammer."

President Wilson then slowly pressed down the trigger of the riveter.

"Rat-tat-tat," sang the hammer piston driven with tremendous force. Suddenly the noise ceased. The jarring had shaken the president's finger loose.

Keep on, Mr. Wilson ordered sharply, fearing the rivet would cool before the job was finished. Again the president pressed the trigger and as Mooney guided the gun around the edge, the rivet was beaten cleanly to a button-like head, guaranteed to hold in all kinds of seas.

When the applause subsided the shipyard band played the Star Spangled Banner and the presidential party returned to Washington.

Officials of the company claim a world's record in establishing a permanent shipyard in 85 working days. Less than three months ago the site of the yard was swamp land.

Homage Paid to Veterans and Those Now Overseas

Washington, May 30.—The American people today paid homage to the memory of the nation's defenders who have fallen in battle, and those now fighting overseas.

Added solemnity was given this memorial day by the great battle raging on the fields of France where American soldiers are standing with the allied troops abreast the charging German armies. For the ultimate victory of these Americans and the thousands who are to follow them, President Wilson in response to a resolution by congress had asked the people to make of memorial day a day of fasting and supplication.

The president and Mrs. Wilson attended services this morning at the Central Presbyterian church and in the afternoon went to Arlington National Cemetery where annual memorial exercises were held by the Grand Army of the Republic.

The presidential party was escorted thru the grounds to the speaker's stand by a troop of cavalry and a company of engineers. Secretary Baker occupied a seat in the stand.

FINISH TRAINING
IN BRITISH TRENCHES

Heldquarters of British Army Sunday, May 26.—By The Associated Press—Some junior officers and men having reached the last stage in their training are taking a turn in the British trenches where they have already come into contact with the enemy's fire, suffering slight losses.

Every man has stood the test well and all are eager to have their chance in a more extensive engagement the time is not allowed to hang heavily on their hands.

The despatch riders appear to have completely mastered the difficult roads judging from the manner in which they cover the highways. There are seen at all hours of the day and are heard at all hours of the night rushing along at top speed, rarely stopped by any obstacle, slipping in and out and squeezing thru seemingly impossible spaces in the congested traffic. Yet few accidents are reported. One motorcyclist, attacked by a machine gun at night by a German air raider jumped a ditch with his machine and plunged into a ploughed field where he landed without a scratch.

STEAMSHIP SUNK.

AGREE TO COMPROMISE.

Chicago, May 30.—It was made known tonight that officials of the Aurora, Elgin & Chicago electric railroad and employees who had voted to strike tomorrow night had agreed to a thirty day compromise of 10 cents an hour wage increase pending government action. The two sides are expected to confer tomorrow.

WESTERN CHANGES

Hutchinson, Kans., May 30.—The Hutchinson club of the Western League is to be moved to Oklahoma City and the Topeka club will be moved to Hutchinson, effective June 2. It was announced here tonight following a conference between the Hutchinson baseball committee, Owner John Holland of the Hutchinson club and President Spencer Arthur Abbott of the Topeka club.

SOUTH OBSERVES MEMORIAL DAY FOR FIRST TIME
Richmond, Va., May 30.—National Memorial Day was generally observed over the south today for the first time. In response to President Wilson's proclamation calling on the people of the nation to make the day one of supplication and prayer for the success of the American arms business in all southern states was suspended at least part of the day and special services were held in most churches.

In this city veterans of the Union and Confederate armies joined in decorating the graves of blue and gray soldiers who fell on battlefields around the old capital of confederacy. These exercises followed a parade thru the city to Hollywood Cemetery, where 18,000 Confederate dead are buried.

SAUR KRAUT DUTCH DISH
Washington, May 30.—Saur kraut may be eaten without disloyalty. The food administration today explained that the dish is of Dutch rather than German origin and that those who make free use of it will be performing a patriotic service by stimulating a great use of cabbage and thus saving staple foods needed abroad.

GIVEN JEWELLED SWORD
Easton, Pa., May 30.—The City of Easton, birthplace of General Peyton C. March, chief of staff of the United States armies, tonight presented the general with a jeweled sword "in token of its esteem for America's distinguished soldier."

SINN FEINERS DEPORTED
London, May 30.—Sixty-nine Sinn Feiners have been deported from Ireland for interference in England, according to Edward Short, chief secretary for Ireland and who spoke in the house of commons today. The statement was made in reply to a question whether the deportees would be tried in England or in Ireland.

FREE INNOCUATION
Washington, May 30.—Free anti-typoid inoculation is to be given by the government to protect the health of the nation this time when the labor of every man possible is needed in winning the war. Secretary McAdoo announced tonight he had directed the public health service to give inoculation without charge to all who apply at its hospitals or field office.

REMOVING CHILDREN
Paris, May 30.—Removal of children from Paris began today when a thousand children from Mont Matre district of the city were placed on a special train bound for a vacation colony department of Allier, central France, under a plan for removing them from harm of the long range shell.

IS PROGRESSING
New York, May 30.—Dr. Chas. F. Stokes, former surgeon general of the navy operated on last night for appendicitis, is progressing.

WILSON TO OBSERVE
Washington, May 29.—President Wilson will observe Memorial Day tomorrow as a day of prayer and will attend church services held in response to his proclamation calling on the public to pray for the success of American arms. Later in the day he will attend Memorial services at Arlington National cemetery.

The number of travelling saleswomen in the United States is estimated to have increased at least 35 per cent since the war began.

HARKNESS HANDICAP
FEATURE AT SHEEPSHEAD

New York, May 30.—The Harkness handicap at 100 miles for a trophy and $30,000 added money, is the feature on the program of auto races to be decided today on the Sheepshead Bay Speedway track. This is the first big event of its kind to be run on a handicap basis and it is believed that this method will result in the winning car attaining a speed of nearly 2 miles a minute.

All the best drivers in the country have entered and a dozen Chevrolet has been placed alone on scotch, on account of his having established the track record of 110 miles an hour in the 100 mile race here last year when he won the Harkness gold trophy.

Chevrolet believes he can win from such expert drivers as De Palma, Resta, Oldfield, Mulford, Vall, Milton and about a dozen others. He is conceding 61 seconds to De Palma, twice that time to Resta; 2:05 to Mulford; 2:10 to Oldfield.

CHICAGOAN ARRESTED

Chicago, May 30.—Failure to salute the flag as he watched Chicago's greatest Memorial Day parade caused the arrest of Charles Baumann, declared by the police to be an unaturalized German.

He carried a pass permitting him to travel anywhere in Germany which with several letters was taken from him. Baumann, who was seized by Chief of Detectives Mooney who jerked off the man's hat as a belated salute to the flag said he was born in Calcutta, that his father was a German and his mother English. He will be turned over to federal officials.

SIGN ARTICLES.

Denver, Colo., May 30.—Jack Dempsey of Salt Lake Utah and Fred Fulton of Rochester Minn., today signed articles to meet in a twenty round contest to a decision at Danbury, Conn., on July 4.

The men are regarded as leaders in the heavy weight boxing division. The bout will be promoted by J. R. Mulvihill of Danbury. The amount of the purse for which the men will contest was not made known.

TO BEGIN FIGHT TODAY
Edwardsville, Ill., May 30.—The defense probably will begin its fight tomorrow in the trial of eleven men charged with the lynching of Robert Paul Prager, alleged German spy. When court adjourned yesterday over the holiday the state's attorney said only three more witnesses would be placed on the stand. Attorneys for the accused men have never intimated that their life of defense lawyer and enemy alien. Every one of the defendants will be placed on the stand in his own behalf, it is said.

NOTED PRELATES TAKE PART

New York, May 30.—With solemn ceremony and in the presence of a notable gathering of clergy and laity, the Church of the Holy Name of Jesus, at 96th street and Amsterdam avenue, was consecrated today according to the rites of the Roman Catholic church. The impressive offices were presided over by Cardinal Farley, ceremonies began with a procession of robed ecclesiastical participants, preceded by the vested choir of boys. Music from the great organ and choir played a notable part in the ceremonial. Bishop Patrick J. Hayes performed the ceremony of consecration and Bishop William T. Russell, of Charleston, S. C., performed the pontifical mass.

FESTIVAL OF CORPUS CHRISTI

New York, May 30.—The Festival of Corpus Christi was observed with special services today in all of the Roman Catholic churches. In Catholic countries, such as Spain and Austria, Corpus Christi is the greatest fête day of the year. The festival commemorates the institution of the holy Eucharist. Juliana, a nun in a Belgian convent, first conceived the idea of the ceremony, being made a special observance, and was able to persuade Urban IV, to proclaim it as such and set aside one day of each year for the purpose. This was in 1264, and with the exception of two or three lapses under the Pope following has since been attended with strict observance every year.

The Avery Cultivator

HAS MADE MORE FRIENDS

in this territory than any other on the market and every user is a booster, which alone tells the tale. IT DOES NOT NEED AN INTRODUCTION!

The real work in using a cultivator is in handling the gangs. This makes it a most important feature to have a lift spring and application right. On the Avery this has been done. The lift spring is double-acting. The ordinary lift spring loses its tension as the gangs are raised. But, with the Avery the pull or tension increases as the gangs are raised and, therefore, does the lifting all the time.

The balance lever provides a perfect balance. The depth regulating lever device is a winner, allowing the operator to change the depth to suit, quickly and as desired with practically no effort. For the convenience of the operator we have a cushion spring which allows considerable adjustment by using the foot pressure when desired. The wheels have dust-proof boxings, long distance, self-oiling axles and are made in our own factory.

This tool is built for extra long service, and to give more and better satisfaction than any other make. We have a stock on hand now to supply all prospective customers and can assure them a price that will make them money. A price that cannot be duplicated by the regular retail dealer as he does not buy and sell at wholesale. This information is something that will benefit you if you see us.

If you intend to use your old cultivator, look well to the shovels. If you are in need we can furnish you new shovels for your cultivator in sets to fit any make.

Remember, one week more at our present price. $4.00 increase per cultivator, June 1st, made necessary by cost on our last shipment.

ATRIOTISM DOMINANT IN GREAT PARADE

DECORATION DAY PAGEANT
ATTRACTED GENERAL PUBLIC INTEREST.

Organizations and individuals in friendly rivalry produced most gorgeous spectacle ever given locally — War Spirit Demonstrated in Many Ways—Notes and Personal.

The events of Decoration day, 1918, are now a matter of record and the observance of the day has gone into history as the most notable that can be remembered. Several committees have been busy for weeks past in making arrangements for the proper observance of the day and especially with reference to the parade. This parade was designed originally by the Thrift stamp and War Savings certificate county organizations as an advertisement of the government war time securities. From this beginning it broadened into a still greater patriotic event.

Patriotic Lessons Emphasized.
The parade featured prominently not only the need of supporting the government by the purchase of War Savings certificates and Thrift stamps, but the attention of the public was also directed toward the need for food conservation and the further need for increased food production. There were features to impress upon the public mind the importance of Red Cross work and the army Y. M. C. A. School children by the thousands with their banners indicated their interest and their willingness to work for a common cause. Organizations vied with each other in the display of their service flags and in a score of ways, the people made clear the fact that this indeed was a time of rampant patriotism.

The parade committee had worked out the plans with such exactness and care that the nineteen or twenty divisions in the parade moved without a hitch. There had been a clear understanding as to where the different divisions were to form and the marshals and lieutenants and committee members watched carefully to see that the outlined program was carefully followed. The request that business houses and residences be decorated met with a generous response and so there were U. S. flags and the flags of the allies everywhere in view. Never have the streets of Jacksonville taken on so much of patriotic color. Except for the heat the day was perfect and there was not a single happening to mar the success of the pageant and program or to in any way lessen the interest of the people.

Children Furnished Big Feature.
Possibly no feature of the parade aroused so much of general attention and enthusiasm as did the marching school children, representing all the wards of Jacksonville and the parochial schools. These children were under the direct charge of their teachers, who gladly met the burden of marching beneath the rays of a blistering sun in order to care for the children and to show their own patriotic interest. A spectator could not see these children, with their flags and banners and mottoes, without thinking anew of how great is the children's interest in the great war events of the day altho the children themselves may not fully appreciate that fact. However, there is no discounting the patriotism of the boys and girls in Jacksonville and the various war time activities that have been started in the schools have received the most earnest and continued support of these children.

In a pageant of such size it is hardly possible to give individual mention of description without omitting features or people of equal importance. The references given herewith are known to be somewhat incomplete. Suffice it to say that all of those who took part added materially to the success of the whole and it was the combined effort which really made the pageant so beautiful and such a success. The order of parade follows:

The Parade.
The parade moved promptly at 2 o'clock. John A. Ayers, one of the assistant marshals led the parade.

He was followed by Miss Cora Cherry who represented Joan of Arc. Miss Cherry was an ideal figure of the whole and it was the combined effort which really made the pageant so beautiful and such a success. The order of parade follows:

Then came members of the police force, city and county officials.
Major McDougall, chief marshal and assistants who were:

PARADE NOTES

One of the greatest hits of the day was registered by the I. W. C. "Kitties."

Those who gave a "lift" to the old soldiers and members of Co. C at East Cemetery enabled the dead men to have a proper escort from the Opera House to the Washburn station, and their service was appreciated.

Another special feature of the procession was the Jacksonville State Hospital girls. In immaculate white uniforms, they showed considerable drill training, and their appearance was a distinct asset to the line of march.

Miss Cora Cherry as Joan of Arc was picturesque. A superb horsewoman, she made a most pleasing and imposing figure in this character.

"It was certainly the greatest parade ever held in Jacksonville." This and similar expressions of approval were heard on every hand after it was over.

The great turn out of the schools of the city was one thing which made the parade the success it was. Routt College, the parochial schools, Illinois Woman's College, Illinois College and the Jacksonville public schools were well represented in line.

It was rather a long hike for some of the little tots, but they did it in fine shape, possibly better than did some of their instructors.

The beautiful American Red Cross float was admired by everyone. It was mounted on a Gramm-Bernstein Motor truck driven by Harry Frye. This truck is a Liberty truck with Liberty motor and is exactly the same type as is in use with the American army today. The truck was driven thru from Lima, Ohio by the agents, Craig and Frye, especially for the use of the American Red Cross in the parade yesterday.

The members of the executive committee of the Memorial Day Parade, Captain James M. Swales and Major C. E. McDougall wish to personally thank each and every one who took a part in the parade and also all those who assisted in any way toward making the day a success. The Grand Army veterans surely deserved all the honor shown them, but wish it known that all was appreciated.

What would the day have been without the Liberty Band? There would assuredly have been a great vacancy created had this musical organization, under the direction of Major Dalton, been absent from the line of march. It takes martial airs such as these musicians know how to play to put the pep into things.

The members of Company C had their first opportunity to show appreciation to State Auditor Andrew Russell for his gift of their beautiful new flag. When he left the Grand yesterday afternoon, new as seen by the militiamen who gave three lusty cheers for him under the leadership of Corporal Burdick.

The Knights Templar presented an inspiring sight in their white plumes and handsome uniforms. They marched near the head of the parade.

The famous Dokay Drill Team was greeted with applause along the line of march. This organization and the Knights of Pythias lodges were well represented in line.

The Eagles, Moose, Royal Neighbors and Modern Woodmen responded loyally in the matter of delegations in line.

Under the direction of Scoutmaster Fred Barr the Boy Scouts were in line with a goodly representation. This great organization of boys can always be counted upon when any manifestation of loyalty is to be made.

Among the organizations in line the honor belongs to the Knights of Columbus for having the largest number of members. There were 257 men of this order in line and with real pardonable pride did they display their service flag with 57 stars. And in the contingent which left for camp yesterday there were three additional men who are entitled to recognition on that flag. Riding in front of the Knights of Columbus division were Mr. and Mrs. Terrence Sloan, who have three sons in the service, and Mr. and Mrs. John Ross, who have a like distinction. Both Mr. Sloan and Mr. Ross carried small service flags and it was not at all surprising that special honors were paid them by people who knew the facts.

The D. A. R. contribution to the parade was a handsome automobile float representing Betsy Ross as she presented the flag to the three commissioners, George Washington, Robert Morris and John Ross. Mrs. Tindall in colonial costume represented Betsy Ross and the three commissioners were pupils from the School for the Deaf.

Mrs. Wesley James on horseback represented the Revolutionary heroine, Moll Pitcher, and armed with a musket preceded the float. The D. A. R. is under obligation to Cannon Commission Co. for the float and to Denver Buck who acted as chauffeur.

The tank which was one of the conspicuous features of the parade, was designed by Frank Mather, foreman of grounds at the School for the Deaf and he was assisted in the building by boys of the carpenter shop and the painting was done by boys at the paint shop. Mr. Mather himself drove the automobile about which the tank was cleverly constructed.

The girls of the Woman's College made a decidedly attractive feature in the parade, with the variety and richness of their costumes. All the young women who took part in the recent May day pageant were in line and were preceded by Miss Koppinger, riding in the chariot and attended by flag bearers, another feature of the May day festivities.

The Improved Order of Red Men and Minnetonka and Iona councils were all represented by floats. Redskins and their squaws with teepees and other "Indian" settings made the floats very realistic and attractive.

The largest service flag in the parade was that of Illinois college which shows about 106 stars. The college was represented by marching young men who carried an enormous American flag and by a number of young women in automobiles who sang college and patriotic songs.

Routt college service flag, borne by four girls, also had prominent place and there were many students from the school in line.

Jacksonville State Hospital made a substantial contribution to the parade. Red Cross nurses in their costume to the number of fifty appeared and were preceded by a float representing an injured man upon a cot with a Red Cross nurse at his bedside. The hospital also sent a beautiful float representing an ocean sailing vessel. Mrs. E. L. Hill and two daintily dressed children appeared with this float.

Many are quite familiar with the beautiful poster used during the Red Cross campaign showing a madonna-like figure holding a wounded child in her arms, the poster called "The greatest mother in the world." Spectators saw a reproduction of that beautiful poster in the Red Cross float, with Mrs. T. C. MacVicar artistically representing the Red Cross nurse. There were some added features to the float which greatly increased its sum total of beauty. The float of the Mothers' Association was very attractive. Miss Florence Madden with powdered hair represented the figure of mother, and there were little boys in sailor or garb and little girls also lent their charm to the scene.

The six gaily decorated horses of Jacob Cohen & Sons really made an impressive parade feature. These horses are such splendid specimens and they were so richly caparisoned for the parade that they added a great deal to the beauty of the spectacle.

Members of Co. C made their first public appearance in Jacksonville in the Decoration day parade. They were under command of Capt. Vickery, Lieutenants Wesley James and Felix E. Farrell, with J. A. Walters as top sergeant. Tho the company has not been long organized, a very creditable showing was made. The company added quite materially to the military thought of the parade and spectators frequently indicated their interest or good will by applause as the company passed.

Without detracting from the important work done by so many other persons in making the parade a success, special credit can properly be given to Frank H. Plouer, who was the chairman of the parade committee. Weeks ago Mr. Plouer began to devote his time unsparringly to this parade and he was fortunate in enlisting the interest and sympathy of many who were heartily willing to join in the work of both the leadership and execution of the plans.

MATRIMONIAL

Carter-Robinson.

William E. Carter of Haegner, and Miss Beulah Ellis Robinson of Concord were united in marriage at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon at Brooklyn M. E. parsonage by the Rev. W. W. Theobald. The groom is a farmer and a young man highly respected in his home community. The bride is the daughter of Albert Robinson of Concord and is deservedly popular in a large circle of friends. The couple left for Springfield on the Washburn. After a brief wedding tour they will reside on a farm near Haegner.

Kean-Taylor.

B. J. Taylor of Chapin received word yesterday of the marriage of his sister, Josephine Taylor, to Willard O. Kean, of Chicago. This wedding will come as a surprise to the many friends of Miss Taylor in Chapin and the surrounding community. The marriage took place in Chicago on May 11th; after several weeks' wedding trip their home will be made in Chicago. Miss Taylor is the youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Taylor and made her home in Chapin until two years ago when she moved to Chicago and made her home with her sister, Mrs. Lamar Hollowell. While in Chicago she has made a host of friends who will wish her a happy married life. Mr. Kean is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kean of Chicago. He is manager of the Newsom Book company of Chicago.

URGES PURCHASE OF WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

President Makes Direct Appeal to American People—Asserts War is one of Nations, Not one of Armies.

Washington, May 29.—To save materials and labor for necessary war purposes, President Wilson today appealed to Americans to "buy only those things which are essential to the individual health and efficiency" and to volunteer on or before June 28, National Thrift Day, to invest systematically in war savings and thrift stamps or other government securities.

"This war is one of nations—not one of armies," said the president, "and all of our one hundred million people must be economically and industrially adjusted to war conditions if this nation is to play its full part in the conflict. The problem before us is not primarily a financial problem but rather a problem of increased production of war essentials and the saving of the materials and the nation necessary for support and equipment of our army and navy. Thoughtless expenditure of money for non-essentials uses up the labor of men, the products of the farm, mines and factories and overburdens transportation all of which must be used to the utmost and at their best for war purposes."

The great results which we seek can be obtained only by the participation of every member of the nation, young and old in a national concerted thrift movement.

"I therefore urge that our people everywhere pledge themselves, as suggested by the secretary of the treasury, to the practice of thrift to serve the government to their utmost in increasing production in all fields necessary to the winning of the war, to conserve food and fuel and useful materials of every kind, to devote their labor only to the most necessary tasks and to buy only those things which are essential to individual health and efficiency and the people as an evidence of their loyalty invest all that they can save in liberty bonds and war savings stamps."

The securities issued by the treasury department so many of them within the reach of everyone that the door of opportunity in this matter is wide open to all of us. To practice thrift in peace time is a virtue and brings great benefit to the individual at all times, with the desperate need of the civilized world today for materials and labor with which to end the war, the practice of individual thrift is a patriotic duty and a necessity.

"I appeal to all who now own either liberty bonds or war savings stamps to continue to practice economy and thrift and to appeal to all who do not own government securities to do likewise and purchase them to the extent of their means. The man who buys government securities transfers the purchasing power of his money to the United States government until after this war and to that same degree does not buy in competition with the government."

"I earnestly appeal to every man, woman and child to pledge themselves on or before the 28th of June to save constantly and to buy as regularly as possible the securities of the government; and to do this as far as possible thru membership in war savings societies. The 28th of June ends this special period of enlistment in the great volunteer army of production and saving here at home. May there be none unenlisted on that day."

CHIEF ORDERLY AGNEW WRITES

Tells of Safe Arrival at Camp Shelby, Miss.

Taylor H. Agnew, chief orderly in charge of the contingent which left last week for Camp Shelby, Miss., writes of the safe arrival of the men in camp. Says there are lots of pine trees but they don't give much shade. His letter follows:

At Camp, Monday, Jacksonville, Ill.

Well our bunch of ninety one arrived all to the good Sunday evening seven thirty, all in the best of spirits except rather hungry not having much on the way besides pickles and hard boiled eggs, which surely was a huge joke. If it hadn't been for the box lunches which were put up by the Mothers and the girls at C. C. Phelps Dry Goods Co. we would have been a starving bunch and allow me to say for the bunch that the lunches were certainly appreciated, and thanks to everyone.

We are all quarantined and have had several short lectures or instructions and if it wasn't so hot I'm sure we would all like it. Seems to me some member of the board told me this camp was located among the pines—yes, it is—not. Shade—oh yes, lots of it, right along side your tents. But anyway we are trying to get acquainted. We seem to have a good bunch of officers, and if the Kaiser knew that this bunch of Morgan county men were in training he would start peace negotiations. Give out hellos to everyone and thanks for the best "send off" that Jacksonville ever put out, and don't forget to write to any of the bunch.

Address, Private, Detachment Camp, Recruit Co.—No. 9.

Truly yours
Taylor H. Agnew.

LEAVE FOR COAST

Mrs. F. H. Bode and children and her sister, Miss Spaulding, left Jacksonville Wednesday for Springfield, where they are making a brief visit with relatives. They will be joined today by Mr. Bode and their journey to Long Beach, Cal., will begin. As previously mentioned, Mr. Bode is leaving Jacksonville to enter the wholesale grocery business on the western coast. Mr. Bode has not only an excellent business record to his credit but he is known as a man who has an earnest interest in all questions affecting the public welfare and Jacksonville is losing a desirable citizen by his going.

DEATHS

Hedges.

Miss Nancy Hedges died at the Old Peoples home Thursday morning at 7 o'clock. She was born in Adams county near Quincy, January 9, 1838. She spent most of her life in that county entering the home August 23, 1906. Two sisters, Mrs. Lottie Lewis of Quincy and Mrs. Mary Ann Kober of Tacoma, Wash., survive her. Funeral services will be held from the home this afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of the Rev. Myron L. Pontius, with burial in Diamond Grove cemetery.

NEW SELECTIVE LAW EXPLAINED IN DETAIL

All Men Who Have Become 21 Since June 5, 1917 are Now Required to Register—Local Boards Have Full Instructions

The Secretary of War authorizes the following: With the signing by President Wilson of the bill and proclamation designating Wednesday, June 5, as the day on which all men who have reached the age of 21 since last June 5 shall register for military service, Provost Marshal General Crowder's Office immediately began preparations for the enrollment of the men. Instead of using the election machinery as was done last year Gen. Crowder will call upon the local boards. It is believed that their experience during the past year has peculiarly fitted them to handle the new registration economically and efficiently.

Gen. Crowder has estimated that probably three-quarters of a million men will be added to the American Army by the new registration. His estimate is based on the fact that almost 10,000,000 men registered last year. This number included all between the ages of 21 and 31, and statistics collected by Gen. Crowder's office show that a little more than 10 per cent of these men were 21 years old. On that basis it is estimated by draft officials that the total registration will exceed 1,000,000, of which 750,000 will be available for military service. This makes proper allowances for physical defects, exemptions because of dependents, and other bars to military service.

What the Law Provides. The law provides that every young man in the United States, who has reached the age of 21 years since June 5, 1917, or will reach that age on or before June 5, 1918, must register. The only exceptions are in the cases of men who are actually in active military or naval service. All male persons, citizens or aliens, born between June 6, 1896, and June 5, 1897, inclusive, except officers and enlisted men of the Regular Army, Navy and Marine Corps, and the National Guard and Naval Militia while in Federal service, and officers in the Officers' Reserve Corps and enlisted men in the Enlisted Reserve Corps, while in active service, must register. Some misunderstanding has been caused by the publication of reports that medical and divinity students need not register, and Gen. Crowder has issued the following statement:

"Divinity students and students of medicine must register. Under the terms of the law signed by President Wilson on Monday students who were preparing for the ministry in recognized theological or divinity schools and students who were preparing for the practice of medicine and surgery in recognized medical schools on May 20, 1918, are exempt from the draft. However, the law does not relieve such students from the duty of registering on Wednesday, June 5. Registration comes first, exemption afterwards. It is absolutely necessary that these students register."

Place of Registration. The registration will be held in the office of the local board having jurisdiction of the area wherein the person to be registered permanently resides, or in such other place as by public notice is designated by the board, between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. on Wednesday, June 5, 1918.

It is necessary to go to the registration place in person. Any man who expects to be absent from home on Wednesday, June 5, 1918, should go at once to the office of the local board where he expects to be and have his registration card filled out and certified. He must then mail this card to the office of the local board having jurisdiction of the place wherein he permanently resides, and in view of the fact that this card must be received by his home local board on or before June 5, it is essential that anyone who expects to be away from home on that date arrange for his registration immediately.

Anyone who is sick on June 5 and unable to present himself in person at the office of the local board may send some competent friend, who may be deputized by the clerk to prepare his card.

LEMON JUICE FOR FRECKLES

Girls! Make beauty lotion at home for a few cents. Try it!

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quart of the best freckle-kill and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply the three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.—adv.

Any person in doubt as to where he should register should consult the local board in the place where he permanently resides, or he may obtain the desired information from the office of the mayor if he lives in a city of 30,000 population or over, or in the office of the county clerk or parish clerk if he does not live in a city of 30,000.

It is not anticipated that many will be delinquent. It is hoped that none will be, but for those who do fail to perform their duty Congress has provided a very heavy penalty. Failure to register on June 5, constitutes a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment for one year, and may result furthermore, in the loss of valuable rights and privileges and immediate induction into military service.

NOTICE

One per cent of all of our collections from our entire system for the month of May on all accounts made prior to May 1st, will be contributed to the RED CROSS. This contribution to go in the local Red Cross chapter where the collection is made. This is an opportune time to help the Red Cross, whose needs are more pressing than ever before on account of the number of soldiers that we are sending over the seas.

PAUL LEURIG WRITES FROM CAMP SHELBY

Sends Interesting News to Father from Mississippi Camp.

The following was received from Paul Leurig, who left Saturday with the others selected for Camp Shelby, Hattiesburg, Miss., by his father, Louis Leurig:

Monday, May 27.
Dear Dad: Arrived all O. K. It certainly was one hot, unaccommodating trip, but everyone stood it and we arrived after passing thru about a thousand miles of pine forests, to say nothing of seeing sunflowers. After walking about two miles we arrived at our detention camp. We were given our blankets, plates, etc. We will get our uniforms in a day or two and then will be regular, honest to goodness "khaki lads." Went down and took a shower last night; was down this morning and cleaned up. It certainly is a busy place—3 miles by 45 miles—no little space. I really have found out that the U. S. isn't quite as small as it used to look in the geographies.

Tell mother that I got her note yesterday. It certainly was fine and I know I'll get the results for which she works.

Each and every person was dandy before I left. The Christian church girls had written letters which we read at different hours of our trip on the train.

There are six fellows in my tent—Laurence Redburn is the only one I know, but they are all from Morgan county. We won't be here very long in the detention camp (21 days). I suppose we'll all be shot and then later moved.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet Friday afternoon with the president, Mrs. Sarah Wade.

Guy Smith, Dean Lamb and W. W. Mehrhoff let the last week for Camp Shelby at Hattiesburg, Miss., to enter training in the U. S. army.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Milligan, Mrs. Ada Barton and daughters, Marjorie and Pauline, Miss Stella Cunningham and Harold Cunningham motored to Montezuma Sunday afternoon.

Service
Puncture Proof Tires and Casings. Guaranteed 6,000 miles without a puncture.

Roy L. Black, dealer, Route No. 8, Jacksonville, Illinois. Bell Phone 41-2, Litterberry.

Francis E. Baltz and Henry Frech of Carrollton were business visitors in the city yesterday.

SO EASY! LIKE ROLLING OFF LOG

Sore, touchy corns stop hurting, then lift right with fingers

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because a few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once and soon the corn loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

A quarter ounce of freezone costs very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried as it is inexpensive and is said not to inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue or skin. After you lift away the trouble some corn or callus the skin underneath is as pink, firm and healthy as the palm of your hand.

Another case—Pennsylvanian, reports: "I have taken about one-half the Bio-feren pellets and must confess that I feel like new."

A Kentuckian woman says: "I have taken Bio-feren regularly and much benefited. I can use my arms much better. However, can't get hands to my head sufficiently to comb my hair, but I feel that I will soon be able to do that."

You want the vigorous health and ruddy beauty that is dependent strength, nerves and red blood. Everybody does. Read these reports about again. You, too, if you are dragged down in health and strength because overwork, worry, anxiety, melancholia, nervous debility, debility follow infectious diseases, convalescence from acute fevers, etc.

Bio-feren contains some of the best ingredients known to the medical world, and is indicated for the treatment of run-down conditions due to overwork, worry, anxiety, melancholia, nervous debility, debility follow infectious diseases, convalescence from acute fevers, etc.

There is no secret nor mystery about Bio-feren. Every package shows the elements it contains. Ask your physician about it or have him write and we will send him complete formula.

And don't forget that Bio-feren is sold only on condition that you return the empty package and allow us to refund your purchase price if, any reason, you are not fully satisfied. Please bear that in mind for it is very important.

Bio-feren sells at $1.00 for a large package. Your druggist can supply you or we will send it direct upon receipt of $1.00; six packages for $5.00 should you have any trouble in securing it. The Santal Remedies Company, Massena Temple, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Keep the Children Well

To keep the little ones well, strong and happy, free of coughs, colds, croup, little fevers and indigestion, use

Foley's Honey and Tar. It is carefully made of selected remedies that loosen and break up a cold, stop croup and ease an aching inflamed throat, and it is clean of all narcotics.

The prompt use of Foley's Honey and Tar is very helpful for whooping cough and the restless feverish state that attends children's diseases.

M. T. Davis, Bensenville, W. Va., writes: "One of my patrons had a small child with croup. They came to my store and bought a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar and he mumbled the child was entirely recovered."

CUBS BREAK EVEN ON HOLIDAY GAMES

Brilliant Pitching By Vaughn
Wins Afternoon Game—Cincinnati Takes Morning Contest—
Boston Takes Double Header from Brooklyn Other National League Games.

Chicago, May 20.—Chicago, by defeating Cincinnati 2 to 1 in the afternoon game broke even on the holiday bill today, the visitors having won the morning contest,
9 to 6. The work of Jim Vaughn was the deciding factor in the afternoon game. His pitching was superb. He struck out twelve of the visitors and allowed only six hits. His three base hit which preceded the triple by Black scored the winning run. The game was marked by an assault on Catcher
Killer by Outfielder Earl Neale.
Bressler, in the seventh inning hit a little pop-up in front of the plate. Killer tried for the ball but missed it and it went foul.
Neale who was coming up to bat claimed it a fair ball and said that Killer touched it and it went foul. Words were exchanged between the players and while Killer held his mask in one hand and his glove in the other Neale attacked the catcher, threw him to the ground and then hit him in the face several times. Killer tried to get on his feet but staggered and had to leave the game.
Neale was led off the field by Umpire Rikler. The score:

New York Breaks Losing Streak

Philadelphia, May 30.—Bating
Oeschger from the rubber before the end of the second, New York broke its losing streak at the expense of Philadelphia. This afternoon by the score of 6 to 3. Watson and Tincup blanked the Giants in the last seven innings.
Demaree kept the Phillies hit-ted except in the sixth when the locals bunched three singles with Cravath's double, two runs resulting. This morning's game was postponed because of rain and will be played as part of a double header tomorrow.

MORE MEN MUSTERED
INTO ARMY SERVICE

Another Contingent of Men Given Farewell Thursday Afternoon Ceremonies At Camp. Boys Escorted to Station by Band, G. A. R. and Home Guards.

Another contingent of defenders has gone to the camp and with flags flying and friends cheering, bands playing and handkerchiefs waving. The opera house was packed as usual and all entered fully into the spirit of the occasion. Miller, Weir presided and all throut with a note of cheerfulness and grand spirit. It was a time for patriots to be glad they were alive and able to do even a little for the welfare of the land. Mr. Weir was about to ask Rev. A. A. Todd, D. D. to offer prayer and he said that petitions at the throne of grace had a definite purpose. If we believe that not a sparrow falls to the ground without our Father's notice then we may feel assured that He will remember us on this occasion when we ask for the safe return of these young men from us today. The prayer was offered by Mr. Todd and then Rev. W. E. Collins led in singing "America." The reverend gentleman also led during the exercises in singing "Over There" and "Star Spangled Banner."

Before introducing the next speaker Mr. Weir referred to the cheerful message from the American army in Picardy who yelled as they charged, to the capture of Cantigny. "Now we are in Germany. Let's wrap up our 'em and go on to Berlin." Mr. Weir said the next speaker had been a true patriot and an elder brother to the boys going to the front; indefatigable in his efforts for the welfare and comfort. He then introduced M. F. Dunlap.

Pays Homage to Men

Mr. Dunlap said in brief, I am pleased to be regarded as a friend and elder brother to the men who are going to the front to fight the battles for us. Remember, young men, you have to a great extent, the reputation of Morgan county in your hands. I know you will be brave and patriotic. I know you will be true to the colors and take all precautions to keep yourselves clean and pure bodily and cultivate the best that is in you. Let me assure you most heartily that Morgan county is behind you and will never go back on you. You represent various parts of the county and hence your friends will be scattered all over our beautiful commonwealth. As you are abroad in a strange land with dangers about you don't forget that at home friends are praying for you; that they will ever be alert to heed all that they can know regarding your condition and welfare.

It will be no small comfort to you to realize that your best interests are ever uppermost in the hearts of the people here. You will ask for many things and will not ask in vain. Morgan county has ever had occasion for just pride in the men who have gone from her midst to all kinds of duties and vicissitudes. The gray hair veterans of the Civil War fare with us today an honor and a benediction and so you see the homage paid them so justly it will be your ambition to serve your land as they served at and return with the same honors we so gladly bestow on you.

Our county went bounding over the top in the Red Cross campaign and one reason for it was the fact that her own sons would be in camp abroad and need the good things that will be done to our soldiers from that noble body that a good sum in its treasury came from Morgan county; remember that more will come and remember too that your relatives and friends at home will be true to you thru thick and thin; thru all the dangers and difficulties, thru which you will be called on to pass and this cannot help being a grand incentive to you to do your best in every way and a solace to you in trying moments to feel that a host at home are praying for you; watching eagerly every bit of news from you and in every way interested in all that pertains to you and your work.

The gentleman's eloquent remarks were heard with much interest and generously applauded. He has proved himself by word and valuable deeds that he is a friend to the soldiers and they heard him with pleasure.

MEMORY OF VETERANS
IS DULY HONORED

Memorial Day Program at Centenary Church—Rev. J. O. Kirkpatrick in Fine Address Paid Tribute to Men Who Saved the Union.

Altho the attractions outside were so great Centenary church was well filled with an interested audience and things went right thru with vim and promptness. The auditorium was handsomely decorated with flags, national colors and portraits of the nation's heroes and presented a fine appearance.

The music was especially uplifting. Thomas Rapp had charge of the chorus. Miss Myrtle Larrimore played the organ and Mrs. Helen Brown Read most kindly contributed her superb and magnificently trained voice freely and gladly and in a manner to make the friends of the old soldiers and the old boys themselves feel especially good.

Commander J. M. Swales presided and announced "America," which was sung with a will, Mr. Rapp and Mrs. Read leading, after which Rev. W. W. Theobald offered an earnest invocation. Gen. Logan's famous order, No. 11, designating May 30th as memorial day, was read in a fine manner by Prof. J. H. Rayhill.

Mrs. Read then sang a well chosen song, "There's a Happy Time Coming," receiving hearty and well merited applause for her excellent effort. Miss Lillian Kennedy of Illinois College then favored the audience with a fine recitation, a narrative of the war with pathetic and humorous situations all admirably depicted in a talented manner. Prof. E. E. Ramckamp then read in a clear and pleasing manner Lincoln's immortal Gettysburg address and then came the orator of the day, Rev. J. O. Kirkpatrick, who proceeded to deliver one of the best addresses ever heard on such an occasion. It was with great regret that the reverend gentleman was asked to be brief as the post was called on to escort the departing soldiers at 5:30 after marching to Jacksonville cemetery.

A short outline of the address is given.

The Debt to Veterans.

"We gather here today during one of the most momentous events in the history of our nation. The liberty we enjoy has been bought with the sacrifice of blood in this our greatest republic. We cannot avoid a feeling of sadness when we recall the past and contemplate the present.

"We know that our flag was upheld by the valorous deeds of you old men from 1861 to '65. You bravely bared your breasts to the foe and cheerfully risked life and all that was dear that you might save your country. The scenes of today will remind you of the time when you went out to the battle front that the nation might live.

"The nation should listen to the story of deeds performed in those trying days. If we forget the men who saved our country then let the bell toll the death of our government. The school children cannot be taught too much of the history of the country and what it has cost to preserve for them the privileges they enjoy.

"If the principles for which you fought are maintained the nation will live. When secession reared its head you wrought a new page in history. You fought that all should be free and equal.

"The persecutions in England caused the very brainiest people to emigrate to this land and at the same time a serpent was added to the garden of the nation; a crop of slaves was landed and sold and their country became, in time, half free and half slave and such a condition in any nation is impossible; it cannot survive; you cannot have two systems side by side in any land; one must give way or else there will be warfare.

An eagle carried to its nest a large serpent which it didn't kill and as the serpent revived and managed to crawl into a fissure of a rock nearby and in time returned to devour the eaglets it had been brought there to feed. So slavery, a horrible evil, tolerated in our land, came near being its destruction.

Melting Pot of Nations.

"Our country is a wonderful melting pot; a place where wonderful amalgamations take place. People come here from all parts of the world and generally in time wholly lose their nationality and become Americans.

"In Europe there are many small nationalities who cling tenaciously to their governments, their language and customs deeming them better than any other. The Magna Charta gave men the right of free government and men might have religious liberty. Spain tortured and burned; England cruelly persecuted and caused brave men to seek the land where they would have freedom to worship God.

"The inevitable had to come. The burning question was forever to be settled; was our nation a collection of states free to withdraw at any time; was it to be a nation in which all men are really free and equal before the law or was it to be the land of human slavery and secession?

"Then was the time when you men went out to settle that question. You bravely gave your lives, your arduous service, facing hardships, untold, disease, death, that the union might be preserved. I honor you for you did so much for our mothers and sisters saved and knit for the soldiers as they are sewing and knitting today.

"The sacrifices you made shall not go for naught. You wrote a great chapter in the history of the nation. With sword and cannon you broke the shackles from four million slaves and made the land free in fact as well as in name.

The Cause of Russia.

HERBERT SMITH TO HELP IN WORK

Will Serve as Assistant to M. F. Dunlap in Food and Fuel Administration Affairs.

M. F. Dunlap, county food administrator and chairman of the fuel administration, has been fortunate in securing Herbert Smith to serve as assistant. The work involved in these two departments is getting constantly greater and heavy inroads have been made on Mr. Dunlap's time. For a number of weeks he has been casting about for some one willing and qualified for the service. During the Red Cross drive Mr. Smith proved one of the valuable lieutenants at the headquarters and it was as the result of Mr. Dunlap's observation of his work and their meeting at that time that Mr. Smith undertook this work. It so happened that he was in Jacksonville without anything special to occupy his time owing to the fact that the stock market is heavily overvalued. He is particularly inclined, has had large business experience and thus he fits very nicely into the work of both the food and fuel administrations.

Mr. Smith will have a desk in the room designated as the bond department at the Avers National bank and the voluminous correspondence of the food and fuel will be sent direct to him. He will be in touch with Mr. Dunlap and there will of course be consultation on any matters on which there is any doubt as to department rulings or intent.

As indicated, Mr. Dunlap is very much gratified that he has been able to secure Mr. Smith's consent to aid in this work at this time.

CANTEN SERVICE GREATLY APPRECIATED

Jacksonville had a fine example of Red Cross canteen service yesterday. Young women under the direction of C. F. Ehnie served lemonade to the men in the selective draft, old soldiers, members of the Liberty Band and of Co. C, at the opera house and at the Wash station. Six dozen sandwiches were made by Mrs. Ehnie and Miss Grace Giam. Each of the departing soldiers was given a separate package of the sandwiches tied with red, white and blue ribbon. In addition to the sandwiches each package contained a dozen paper drinking cups. The young ladies who had the strenuous task of serving the lemonade were Misses Esther Davis, Marian Capps, Anne Bellante, Pauline Giam, Helen Giam, Louise Giam and Edith Carlson. They were taken to the Wash station in an automobile furnished by L. F. O'Donnell.

At the recent Red Cross meeting Mr. Ehnie was designated certainly made a fine beginning organize a canteen service and he chairman of the committee to yesterday. The departing soldiers and all others who were greatly appreciated the canteen so generously extended.

INDIES WILL PLAY

LOCAL GIANTS SUNDAY

The Jacksonville Independents will have the local colored Giants for opponents at West Side park Sunday. The Giants have some of the best baseball talent in the city and on former occasions have given the Independents strong argument. Both teams are going good and the contest promises to be hard fought. Sterling Trumbo will be on the mound for the Giants with Frye receiving, while Kitchin will hurl for the Indies with Beerup back of the pan. The lineup of the teams will be given later.

POLICE CAPTURE
SMALL SALOON

Take in Three Men Early Thursday Morning with Large Quantity of Wet Goods—Evidently Intended to Celebrate Memorial Day.

By the capture of Mike Hopper, "Chubby" Lewis and Howard Spears early Thursday morning the police came into possession of a small sized saloon and also prevented a hilarious celebration of Memorial day.

The three men went to Arenzville Wednesday and purchased a large quantity of wet goods. Information of this was obtained by the police who immediately set watch for the men. When midnight arrived they began to fear the men had run the blockade and cached their cargo safely.

However, the watch was kept, and about 1:30 Thursday morning the men were surprised by Capt. Elliott and the night force as they were unloading the goods at a house north of the Washab railroad in the vicinity of the Washab freight house. The men and goods were taken to the police station.

Here an inventory was taken of the cargo. The inventory showed five gallons of Clarke's Pure Rye whiskey, three gallons of keg beer in large glass bottles, one pint of Kimmel and four sacks of bottle beer, four dozen quarts to the sack. Chief Davis has all the liquor at his office. It probably will be necessary to put a guard over it because of the present scarcity and high price.

The men were arrested under the new anti-shiping ordinance. This provides for a fine of $50 for bringing liquor into the city without first obtaining a permit from the city clerk.

BIDS FOR WRECKING
HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

Bids will be received for the wrecking of the high school building until noon 12 o'clock (noon) Monday, June 3, 1918. Specifications may be secured of the secretary, Mary E. Pierson. The board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Mrs. A. White and Mrs. Annie Smith of Springfield were visitors in the city Thursday.

MURRAY KING DIES
AT EASTERN HOSPITAL

Death Came to Former Resident After Long Illness—Burial Here Saturday.

A telegram received by Dr. C. B. Sawyer yesterday brought news of the death of his nephew, Murray King, at a hospital in Springfield, Mass. The deceased had for some time been a resident of Chicago, Mass., where he had been in the employ of the Fisk Rubber Co. Six months ago he became ill and he had never completely recovered. For more than a week past his condition had been serious and the news of his death was not unexpected.

Miss Sarah King, his sister of Chicago, was at his bedside during the final hours. Mr. King was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward King, both now deceased and residents for many years of this city. After leaving Jacksonville about fifteen years ago Mr. King was for a time resident in Chicago and since that time he has been in the east. He was a man of more than usual mental ability and had been successful in his business.

The remains will be brought to this city for interment and the funeral party is expected to arrive Saturday morning. The services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the King home, 421 West College avenue, where the grandparents of the deceased lived for many years.

TO WIRE NUMBER OF AVAILABLE MEN

The local board of Morgan county yesterday received a telegram from the office of the adjutant general with a request to send information by noon Friday, May 31, as to the exact number of men available for service in class 1. Mr. Weir, president of the board, said last night that no other facts were stated in the telegram but to his mind it indicated that an early call for a considerable number of troops may be expected.

LEAVES FOR CHICAGO

Judge W. E. Thomson left last night for Chicago where he will attend the annual meeting of the County and Probate Judges of the state to be held in that city today and Saturday. Judge Thomson is a member of the executive committee. He expects to return to Jacksonville Monday morning.

WILL REMOVE TO CHAMPAIGN

Rev. E. K. Towle and family will leave Jacksonville soon for Champaign which is to be their home. Their many Jacksonville friends will very much regret that they are to leave this city.

Mr. Towle is in evangelistic work and his services are in continuous demand. Wylder Towle has been popular with high school and Y. M. C. A. boys. He has been assistant secretary in charge of the athletic work part of the time at the Y. M. C. A. and is a lad who well deserves his popularity.

THEY REMEMBERED THE REQUEST

People were generally very considerate yesterday morning at Central park. Occasionally some one would start across on the grass but at no time was any harsh action on the part of the Superintendent, Mr. Schaefer, or any of his assistants necessary and the park board is much pleased.

The line was formed with the band in front, the local militia, the Veterans, Relief Corps and citizens. On the way to the last resting place of the dead kindly owners of cars took in all veterans who cared to ride. Arriving at the veterans' burying ground the salute was fired by a squad of the militiamen and then the graves were decorated in the usual manner. The ritual was omitted as the veterans had to hurry back to the opera house. There was plenty of transportation kindly furnished by owners of autos for all the Relief Corps, the veterans and the
